Not unusual punishment

High court rules death penalty valid

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld the death penalty today, ruling that it is not a constitutionally forbidden cruel and unusual punishment.

According to an Associated Press survey, 572 men and 10 women on death rows in 30 states were awaiting the court's decision.

The vote was 7 to 2, with Justices William J. Brennan Jr. and Thurgood Marshall dissenting.

It was the high court's first ruling on the death penalty since June 29, 1972, when the court ruled 5 to 4 that laws then on the books gave too much discretion to judges and juries. That decision invalidated death penalty laws of 36 states, the District of Columbia and the federal government.

In the aftermath of the 1972 decision, 35 states re-enacted the death penalty. But in one of them — Illinois — the law was struck down by the state supreme court.

New laws in 20 states made the death penalty mandatory for a limited number of crimes. Fourteen other states enacted laws employing various formulas calling for judges and juries to consider aggravating and mitigating circumstances.

Most of the new laws impose capital punishment for fewer offenses than before. In three states — California, Colorado and Washington — the new measures were enacted by popular vote.

Congress passed a law providing the death penalty for aggravated cases of air piracy resulting in death. The death penalty has not been imposed under this law.

Since 1930, when reliable count was first kept, 3,859 persons have been executed.

The cases before the Supreme Court involved six men charged with murders in Florida, Louisiana, Texas, Georgia and North Carolina between 1973 and 1974. The six were among 76 death row inmates who asked the Supreme Court to review their cases.

The court outlined its views in separate opinions by Justices Potter Stewart and Byron R. White and a brief statement by Justice Harry A. Blackmun, who said simply that he concurred in the judgment.

Stewart said the imposition of the death penalty for murder "has a long history of acceptance both in the United States and in England" and was obviously accepted by the framers of the Constitution.

The court said the re-enactment of capital punishment by state legislatures was a "marked indication of society's endorsement of the death penalty for murder."

Coffee Break...

THE WASHINGTON Park Association swimming pool on Oakland Avenue will be open from 5 to 9 p.m. Sunday, July 4 in order that employees may attend the bicentennial observance in Washington C.H.

Pool manager John Bane said swimming lessons will not be offered on Monday, July 5. The pool will be open from 1 to 9 p.m. on Monday.

IN THE EVENT of rain, the worship service scheduled for 11 a.m. Sunday, July 4 on the Courthouse lawn will be held at the Grace United Methodist Church.

STATE Representative Bob McEwen will be the featured speaker at 10 a.m. Sunday, July 4 during a holiday worship service at the First Christian Church, corner of North and Temple streets.

Several members and the congregation and the Rev. Ray Russell, pastor, will participate in the celebration-worship service. The public is invited to attend.

DUE TO a last-minute change, the joint church services to take place Sunday in New Holland park will be held at 11 a.m. and not 10 a.m.

Pony express riders cross Ohio

By The Associated Press

A Pony Express rider was to race across Ohio in about 24 hours today, entering the state near Willshire and leaving at Steubenville as part of the nation's bicentennial celebration.

The trip began June 22 when a rider jumped on an Appaloosa pony in Mount Vernon, Wash. and headed east for Valley Forge, Pa., carrying letters from President Ford, nearly all 50 governors and Indian tribes throughout the country.

The Pony Express re-enactment carries the riders about 10 miles an hour with mount changes each hour and is expected to take 24 hours to cross the state. There will be 25 changes before the riders and their accompanying convoy charge out of the state at Steubenville.

The ride will move along Route 81 from the Indiana border and change to Route 309 east of Lima. It will switch to Route 97 near Lexington and then to Route 39 east of Nashville. From Route 39 the riders will change onto Route 164 near Leesville before taking Route 43 out of the state into West Virginia.

The 12-day trip will traverse 11 states before the riders rein up in Valley Forge for the Independence holiday celebration.

Elsewhere in the state over the bicentennial weekend, special activities are planned at Ohio University in Athens where a world premiere of the play "Heroes" is Friday night.

It was written by Dennis Brown, free lance theater critic for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and commissioned by the Ohio Valley Summer Theater with the support of the Athens County bicentennial commission and the Ohio

American Revolution Bicentennial Advisory Committee.

The author said he attempted to detail the dilemmas that predate historic incidents, not the events themselves.

In Wilberforce, a bronze marker commemorating the life of the U.S. Army's first black colonel, Charles R. Young, will be dedicated as part of the Bicentennial activities of the Central State University association for the study of Afro-American life and history.

In Columbus, "Centennial: 1876," an exhibit designed to depict American life and thought 100 years ago, will open at 1 p.m. Sunday at the Ohio Historical Center. The exhibit was produced by the Ohio Historical Society with grants from the Ohio American Revolution Bicentennial Advisory Commission and Battelle Memorial Institute.

For those interested in the heaviest-ever-built, or so the builder claims, American flag, it can be seen in Grove City. George Larger used 168 concrete blocks to construct the 55,000-pound flag at his 1651 Stringtown Rd. machine shop.

Weather for all these activities and the many others planned around the state should be superb with the National Weather Service predicting fair weather Saturday and Sunday with daytime temperatures in the 70s falling into the 50s at night. There's a chance of rain Monday.

For motorists, the Department of Highway safety has predicted 23 highway deaths over the weekend and the Highway Patrol warns it will be out in full force, "strictly enforcing" traffic laws.

Double trouble

Being a twin, identical or otherwise, is unique experience

By CINDI PEARCE
Record-Herald Staff Writer

Carbon copies can be produced of almost anything, even people. But, what would it be like to live with, or at least be aware of, the existence of another human being who looked exactly like you?

Most people will never experience meeting a person with identical physical features, and in many cases, the same emotional characteristics. Being a twin, identical or otherwise, must be a unique experience.

Frances Cook Wilson, 1333 Dayton Ave., and Florence Cook Heironimus, 2131 Snow Hill Road, are identical twins. In fact, they look so much alike, one is astounded when first meeting them.

Born in Washington C.H., with Florence leading the way by 20 minutes, each weighed five pounds at birth.

"We were born at home and after Florence made her appearance, we've been told that the nurse came running down the stairs shouting, 'There's another one.' Our parents weren't expecting twins," Mrs. Wilson said.

The twins, dressed alike in polka-dot blouses with their hair coiffed identically and wearing matching eyeglasses, said they dressed alike purposely for the interview, but don't normally do so. Ironically they've met at social gatherings wearing the same outfits, unintentionally.

"Frances and I were very close throughout school," Mrs. Heironimus said. "We always dressed alike and we were always in the same class." Both women believe it is important that identical twins, particularly, be allowed to stay together during the school years.

Asked about their eventual separation, Mrs. Wilson answered, "There was nothing dramatic about it. After high school we both worked at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base, and then I was married in 1944.

My husband, who was in the service, was sent overseas so I continued living at home. Consequently, our separation was very gradual."

Mrs. Heironimus, who remained single for 15 years after her sister married, said that she didn't resent her sister's marriage. "I was very happy for her."

The Cook twins never deliberately switched roles in their younger days.

"We didn't want to embarrass people," Mrs. Wilson pointed out.

Nevertheless, their identities are still confused by persons who don't know them well.

"It takes a while for people to realize that there are two of us. Half the time I'm called Frances and I have to correct whoever I'm talking to," Mrs. Heironimus said.

"Whenever I come into initial contact with someone whom I think might run into Florence, I try to let them know that there are two of us," Mrs. Wilson added.

The Cook twins have never experienced transmittal of emotions which seems to be a common occurrence between separated twins.

"Perhaps the reason we've never had this type of experience is because we keep in constant touch. Our husbands marvel at the way Florence and I can talk in the morning and then find something else to talk about in the evening," Mrs. Wilson said.

Neither of the sisters had twins themselves, nor particularly wanted a set. "My boys are only 13 months apart so they seemed like twins," Mrs. Heironimus stated. She has two boys and her sister has three.

Do twins fight more than normal? "No, we never fought. We were always good company for one another. Heck, I can't even bring a good fight into this. Life is ho-hum," Mrs. Wilson said as she mocked a yawn and laughed.

Despite the apparent closeness, Mrs. Heironimus said they have lived their individual lives.

"There is a closeness between twins that one doesn't find between other brothers and sisters, but I can't really explain it."

"Constant confusion" was the only disadvantage Mrs. Wilson said she has encountered in the identical twin situation.

"I don't look at Frances and think, that's me, but strangely enough, someone took a picture of me at Christmas time, and I actually have to study that picture to determine determine if it really is me and not

Anticipated 1977 receipts in question

Board okays tentative budget

By PHIL LEWIS
Record-Herald Staff Writer

Superintendent Guy M. Foster presented the Fayette County Board of Education with what he termed "a very, very tentative budget" for 1977 at Thursday night's meeting.

Foster said preparing a more reasonable budget was impossible at this time due to the state legislature's lateness in acting on House Bill No. 920.

The bill is designed to grant relief to taxpayers who incurred large increases due to the reappraisal of real property. Foster said the lateness of the bill, which was passed by the Ohio legislature in late June and now awaits Ohio Gov. James A. Rhodes' signature, leaves school districts with little idea of what tax monies to expect next year.

"The best judgment we have of anticipated receipts for 1977 is $3,065,134.23," Foster said. The superintendent said he arrived at the figure which is approximately $170,000 over the 1976 anticipated receipts after Fayette County Auditor Mary Morris related what receipts the school district could expect.

Fayette County's real property value nearly doubled after this year's land re-evaluation report. Under the old system of determining tax receipts the school district could have expected a $700,000 increase.

If House Bill No. 920 is enacted, the tax receipts will be $500,000 less than expected.

Foster said the situation was frustrating at this time. He said he feels that few people have any idea what tax revenues will be realized after the bill is enacted. He is also concerned that the receipts will be far less than originally expected after the re-evaluation.

"We have been running on minimums expecting an increase," the superintendent said. "If you want to go back to the level we expected (before the bill), we need five mills."

Foster's tentative budget which must be submitted to the state by July 15 allows for a six per cent increase in expenditures across the board.

Board member Philip Grover made a motion that the tentative budget be accepted by the board and it approved unanimously.

"Due to the lack of specific information concerning monies, the tentative budget serves the purpose," Grover said.

The board also authorized the participation in the Non-food Assistance Program. The state administered federal program will provide Chaffin, Wayne, Staunton, Jeffersonville, New Holland and Eber schools with new cafeteria equipment.

The program will give the district nearly $25,000 to purchase the equipment, and the district must pay the remaining 25 per cent of the cost. This percentage could be paid out of lunch funds or other sources including PTO assistance.

Assistant Superintendent Steve Yambor told the board that the schools receiving funds were determined by the number of free lunches and the average daily participation in the school lunch program.

The board also approved the employment of seven new teachers for the coming school year.

Mrs. Emily King, who formerly taught in the Washington C.H. School District, received a one-year contract to teach at Jeffersonville Junior High School. Mrs. Linda Toler and Mrs. Marilyn Vance were given one-year contracts to teach on the elementary level.

Also employed were Michael Yambor, Mrs. Caryl Rhoad and Lavonee Morgan. Yambor will teach at Jeffersonville, Mrs. Rhoad will teach Title I reading part time, and Miss Morgan will teach Spanish, French and English on the high school level.

The board approved the hiring of Michael Campbell to the head teacher position at Eber Junior High School.

IN OTHER action, the board: —Reviewed a handbook prepared for district bus drivers; —Reviewed a proposed policy being formulated on student suspensions and expulsions.

—Received word that state board approved the transfer of territory from Miami Trace School District to Washington C.H. School District;

—Employed three cooks, Mrs. Nellie Scaggs, Mrs. Jeri Park and Mrs. Velma Bell, for the coming school year;

—Accepted the resignation of Madison Mills Elementary School teacher, Mrs. Cathy Ambrose;

—Granted a leave of absence to Mrs. Francis Owens, a Jeffersonville Elementary School teacher; and —Accepted the retirements of Russell Hall and Mrs. Mildred Hall, both teachers at Jeffersonville Elementary School.

Man alive and well despite funeral rites

MIAMI (AP) — Sixty-two-year-old Alex Monroe is alive and well in Miami only months after his daughter, aunt and sisters mourned at his funeral as they gazed on his body in an open casket.

"I'm not dead," Monroe said Thursday after visiting with his daughter, Mamie Higgs, and talking to police. "I just came from North Carolina."

Miami detective Richard Bohan said somebody else was in Monroe's grave. And that somebody else was named Alex Monroe, too.

Bohan also said: —Each Alex Monroe was 62 years old, 5-foot-9 and 140 pounds.

—Each Alex Monroe had a scar across his left cheek.

—Each Alex Monroe lived in downtown Miami. Although their homes were just six blocks apart, Alex Monroe never met Alex Monroe.

The dead Monroe was fatally shot last April during a fight in which he had gone to a friend's defense, Bohan said. A cousin of the dead man identified him correctly at the scene and said his relatives were in Nassau. But police said they couldn't locate them.

Then the funeral home which had been designated to give the dead man a pauper's funeral at county expense tried to find the relatives. A man delivering some flowers saw a note on the funeral home bulletin board, and said, "I know his daughter." He notified Mrs. Higgs. By then, the man had been dead 18 days.

"I thought it was him," Mrs. Higgs said Thursday. "I hadn't seen him in a year. The scar was on the same place — from the temple to the cheek. He had the same small ears, the same salt-and-pepper hair."

So Mrs. Higgs, 31, took out a $500 loan to pay for her father's funeral. And Monroe's family and friends mourned.

Monroe said he returned to Miami and was walking down a street when a friend driving past slammed on her brakes and shouted, "You're dead." He denied it. The friend called Mrs. Higgs.

Even as she hugged her father, Mrs. Higgs was skeptical.

"I was looking to see if there was any graveyard dust on him," she said.

Mrs. Higgs is now trying to get her $500 back, but the undertaker says no. "We simply carried out a service," he said.

Worker wins Ohio lottery

CLEVELAND (AP) — A heavy equipment operator like Richard S. Harris needs steady hands, but Harris said Thursday he couldn't stop shaking when he was named the top prize winner in the Ohio Lottery's Belmont 1,000 game.

Harris, 30, of Dillonville in Belmont County, will receive $1,000 a month for life and is guaranteed of receiving $400,000.

Harris said he will buy a new pickup truck with his winning and perhaps take a vacation to Cedar Point. He has a 9-year-old daughter.

"I'm still nervous. It's a dream come true," Harris said.

Lottery spokesmen said other winners were Marvin E. Carver of Parma Heights, $5,000; Carole A. Stewart of Ravenna, $4,000; Lloyd W. Sprague of Marblehead, $3,000; Victor Visconti of Willowick, $2,000 and Dorothy J. Taylor of Dayton, $1,000.

In the television extra game the winners were Barbara Harding of Lima, $20,000; Gordon Copeland of Mentor, $10,000 and Gary Willet of Cleveland, $5,000.

In the Buckeye 1,000, the six-digit number was 854229; the five-digit number was 20221; the four-digit number was 1889 and the three-digit number was 808.

Deaths, Funerals

John M. Breakall

SABINA—John M. Breakall, 71, of Clearwater, Fla., died at 4:10 a.m. Friday in Metropolitan General Hospital, Pinellas Park, Fla.

A resident of Wilmington and Xenia most of his life, Mr. Breakall was a tree surgeon and nursery operator.

He is survived by his wife, the former Lilian Houseman; three daughters, Mrs. Harold (Etta) Sholler and Mrs. June Adams of Wilmington and Mrs. Gene (Mary) Kiser of Jeffersonville; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Ralph (Helen) Wagner of Largo, Fla.; a stepson, Marvin Jones of Washington C.H.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Vivian Stormont of Xenia; 10 grandchildren and 10 great-grandchildren. Two sisters and a brother preceded him in death.

Services are being arranged by the Littleton Funeral Home, Sabina.

Glenn still among veep candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jimmy Carter is almost certain to choose a senator to be his vice presidential running mate and may already have narrowed the field to three, a senator familiar with Carter's selection process says.

The leading candidates for the second spot on the Democratic presidential ticket are Idaho's Frank Church, Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota and John Glenn of Ohio, said the senator, who asked not to be identified. He said Carter more than likely will pick a middle-of-the-road runningmate.

Preliminary evaluations are being made by Atlanta attorney Charles Kirbo, a long-time Carter associate who is expected to report soon to the former Georgia governor.

At least three other senators also are being considered.

They are Henry M. Jackson of Washington, who competed with Carter for the Democratic nomination; Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the 1968 Democratic vice presidential nominee; and Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois, whose father was the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952 and 1956. "Most of these guys he doesn't know personally at all," said the senator, who himself has been consulted by Kirbo. "He's fortunate to have this extra time to appraise them and size them up."

Carter said in Washington earlier this week that he will narrow the Swine flu program could be doomed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's plan to immunize every American against swine flu may be doomed by the drug manufacturers' refusal to sell the vaccine to the government without protection against patent lawsuits.

A House Health subcommittee on Thursday refused to consider an administration bill that would have freed manufacturers of most liability in the massive inoculation program and would have put the responsibility on the government.

Merrell-National Laboratories, one major manufacturer of the vaccine, told Dr. Theodore Cooper, assistant secretary for health, it has no choice but to stop production immediately in view of the congressional decision.

Cooper said the government has no way to obtain the vaccine except from the drug manufacturers. If a contractual agreement with the manufacturers can't be reached, then "we can't deliver the vaccine" to the public, he said.

Cooper said efforts will be made to negotiate a contract but said the situation now is at an impasse.

Drug manufacturers have testified they want more than a contract with the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. They said a contract must be supported by legislation assuring federal reimbursement for any lawsuits filed because of adverse side effects from the vaccine.

The drug firms they need an indemnification bill early this month to be confident of legal protection and so they can go ahead with the vaccine production.

"If we wait until next month," said Cooper in testimony to a House health subcommittee, "this vaccination program may have to be dismantled." After today, Congress will not be in session for another two weeks because of the July 4 holiday and Democratic National Convention.

Health subcommittee Chairman Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., with support from his colleagues, refused to call a vote on the administration bill.

"This is a one-shot program which ought to be handled by agreement rather than by law," said Rogers after three days of heated debate among HEW, the drug firms and subcommittee members in hearings. "This subcommittee is not in a position to write a law at this time," concluded Rogers. He instructed HEW, drug company lawyers and the Justice Department to try to work out a contract for the purchase of the vaccine, without congressional legislation.

The drug manufacturers say they must be fully protected against liability for injuries or adverse reactions because of recent court decisions which held manufacturers of some drugs and vaccines strictly liable unless the manufacturers assured that warnings of any hazards are communicated to the users.

redeployment of some of Cuba's 15,000 troops from nearby Angola, sources said.

He agreed to the transfer of about 3,000 Cuban soldiers to train Congolese troops, according to reports reaching U.S. intelligence. The reports gave no indication if there are other reasons the Congo government wants Cuban troops in the country.

The Congo Republic served for a time as a staging point for Cuban and Soviet military aid to pro-Marxist forces in Angola which later defeated U.S. backed elements.

With troops in the Congo, Cuba conceivably could bring political pressure against Zaire, which is friendly to the United States and provided support to anti-Marxist forces in the Angolan civil war. A narrow strip of Zaire territory leading to the Atlantic is sandwiched between Angola and the Congo Republic.

Raul Castro also visited Luanda, the Angolan capital, in early June to explain Fidel Castro's decision to reduce the Cuban military presence in Angola, U.S. intelligence sources said.

This visit reportedly came within about 10 days after disclosure that Fidel Castro had written Swedish Prime Minister Olaf Palme saying that Cuba would withdraw about 200 soldiers a week from Angola. The Cuban prime minister was quoted as saying his troop strength in October would be cut in half by the end of this year.

It was assumed then that the Cuban troops would go home.

Since then, there have been a number of news dispatches from Havana saying that Cuban troops have been seen returning from Africa. However, U.S. officials say the U.S. still does not have conclusive evidence that any significant number of Cuban soldiers have been withdrawn from Angola.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has repeatedly warned Cuba against embarking on military ventures elsewhere in Africa.

Death penalty

Justices Lewis F. Powell and John Paul Stevens, said that the death penalty is not under all circumstances a violation of the constitutional ban against cruel and unusual punishment, and that the Georgia law satisfied the requirements which the high court outlined in its 1972 decision.

"We hold that the death penalty is not a form of punishment that may never be imposed, regardless of the circumstances of the offense, regardless of the character of the offender, and regardless of the procedure followed in reaching the decision," they said.

The Georgia law cited in the ruling was signed in 1973 by then Gov. Jimmy Carter, now the almost certain Democratic nominee for president.

Killing 'pedestrians' new game

SEATTLE (AP) — The latest computerized game at the local bar or poolroom is called "Death Race." For 25 cents, you can pretend you're running down pedestrians with a car.

The game puts the player behind a steering wheel and accelerator pedal and lets him chase "gremlins" across an electronic playing board for 99 seconds.

The skeletal figures bear a strong resemblance to people. When hit by a car, they emit a shrieking sound — something like the scream of a child — and turn into gravemarkers.

"If people get a kick out of running down pedestrians, you have to let them do it," said Paul Jacobs, director of marketing for Exidy, the Palo Alto, Calif., company that designed and distributes the game. "This is the sort of challenge that pricks the person's mind a little bit."

Jacobs said "Death Race" has been distributed nationwide but that it's a "trade secret" how many there are. He did say the game "happens to be our most popular game at this time. In fact, the business it attracts far out values any of the other games we've ever marketed."

The game scores points for each figure run down, and when it's over the player is rated on a scale ranging from a futile "skeleton chaser" to an accomplished "expert driver."

"The name 'Death Race' may shock a few people," Jacobs said, "but we find the game humorous."

He said it is an offshoot of an Exidy product called "Destruction Derby," in which players crashed cars into one another.

"We decided to put a twist on that idea, so we added the graveyard effect and the shrieking sound, which makes for a lot more excitement," he said.

Jacobs said the game offended some distributors who refused to contract for it.

Bill Aubbon, director of the Seattle Center arcade, said the game has been in the arcade for about two weeks, "and so far no one has complained."

When first contacted, Aubbon said he wasn't aware of the game, but "it

New premier for Spain sought

MADRID, Spain (AP) — An army general esteemed by liberal officers is reported likely to be King Juan Carlos' choice to replace ousted Premier Carlos Arias Navarro.

In a surprise move apparently intended to speed up democratic reforms, the 38-year-old king fired the conservative government chief he inherited from the late Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

An official statement said Arias Navarro resigned during a visit to the king Thursday. But high-ranking government sources said the king forced the premier out because unrest on both the right and left was threatening the regime and the monarchy.

The sources said Juan Carlos is worried by dissatisfaction among the army's leaders and probably would seek a military premier. They said Lt. Gen. Manuel Gutierrez Mellado, who was named chief of the army's central staff on Thursday, was a likely choice. He has been military commander of the Ceuta enclave in North Africa, is a favorite with the army chiefs and reportedly enjoys wide prestige among liberal officers.

The king must choose from among three nominees by the Council of the Realm, the ultraconservative advisory body that forced him to retain Arias Navarro after Franco's death last November.

Stock list perks up

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market perked up today on the news of a big drop in the size of the nation's basic money supply.

After opening trades, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was up a fraction. New York Stock Exchange issues rising in price held a narrow lead on those declining.

Trading was described as active.

After the close Thursday, the Federal Reserve Board said the nation's money supply dropped $1.6 billion in the latest reporting week. The figure includes cash in the public hands and in bank checking accounts.

A broader money supply total, which adds savings accounts at commercial banks to the basic figure, also declined, by $1.9 billion.

The declines were viewed as a positive influence on stock prices, because they lessen the chance of the Fed taking a more restrictive credit stance in its efforts to control inflation.

Opening prices today included AT&T, off 1/8 at 56 3/4; General Motors, off 1/8 at 68 3/4; and U.S. Steel, unchanged at 53 1/4.

On Thursday, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks declined 7.94 to 994.84.

Stocks declining in price on the NYSE led those advancing by an 8-5 margin.

Volume slumped to 21.13 million shares on the Big Board, down from the 23.83 million traded the day before.

The NYSE composite index of all its listed common stocks eased .40 to 55.31. At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index lost .54 and closed at 104.78.

Peru rocked by protests

LIMA, Peru (AP) — The army patrolled downtown Lima through the night with armored cars, jeeps and half-tracks to enforce a curfew declared by the military government after violent demonstrations against price increases.

The government also declared a state of emergency suspending constitutional guarantees and civilian rule in parts of the country where the military was not already running the local governments.

A nightly curfew in Lima from 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. was ordered until further notice. It was the capital's first curfew since more than 150 persons were killed in February 1975, when the army quelled rioting and looting during a strike by the Civil Guard.

The hundreds of demonstrators Thursday were protesting the government's increases in bus fares, gasoline prices and telephone and electrical rates. Roaming the city in bands of 50 to 100 with hundreds of onlookers urging them on, they broke windows in shops and government offices, stoned buses and blocked streets with bonfires and barricades of wood and large stones.

"Down with the military! Up with salaries!" the crowds chanted.

The government did not say how many were arrested and how many were injured. But one reporter saw police rounding up at least a dozen persons and half a dozen hit by flying bricks, rocks and bottles.

Mount Eber ditch project dismissed

After having once been approved by the Fayette County Board of Commissioners, the proposed Mount Eber ditch project has been dismissed for a second time.

The ditch petition called for closing of the Mount Eber open ditch from Ohio 41-N to Paint Creek.

The first rejection was a result of

Crosby given royal party

LONDON (AP) — Entertainer Bing Crosby, who once appeared in a film called "A Yank at the Court of King Arthur," was the guest of honor in the court of another English monarch.

Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, threw a cocktail party Thursday night to thank the veteran crooner for donating the proceeds from a two-week run at the London Palladium to British charities.

Crosby, 72, opened the series of 13 concerts on June 21 and got a standing ovation from the sellout crowd and rave reviews in the London press. The concerts, all sold out well in advance, are expected to net about $122,500 for charity.

The queen unexpectedly joined the gathering to chat with Crosby, his wife, Kathryn, and singer Rosemary Clooney.

deficiencies in the Fayette County engineer's report. The second was due to the high cost of the improvements.

The commissioners had approved the project and accepted bids earlier this year. The low bid on the project was $5,800. However, when the county sought bonding it was learned that some necessary information had been omitted from the county engineer's report.

Without bonding available, the commissioners were forced to withdraw their approval.

Mrs. Helen Colburn and Mrs. Kathleen Corzatt, Ohio 41-N, the original petitioners, resubmitted their request for ditch improvement.

The engineer's estimate of cost on the project was $7,025 when he submitted his report on June 14. The report included the engineer's opinion that the project should be carried out.

Benefits listed were reduction of the high water table in the area, replacement of an open ditch with a low maintenance closed ditch, and elimination of polluted surface water.

Drawbacks to the project were its high cost per acre and the total cost figure.

Richard Keiser, who represented the county engineer's office at the hearing, stated that the benefits outweighed the project costs.

Several of the 33 landowners involved voiced strong objections to the high cost. In light of the opposition, commissioners Ray Warner asked that the engineer consider a less extensive (and less expensive) project which eliminated all lateral connections.

The engineer's report of June 28 showed a cost of $4,476 for the reduced project, but added that benefits would be greatly reduced. The lesser improvements would not lower the water table or eliminate surface water pollution.

As a result, the engineer stated that the project was not feasible and the benefits no longer exceeded the cost.

The commissioners voted unanimously Monday to dismiss the project and make no improvements.

Although the petitioners whose land is most adversely affected by the poor condition of the ditch were dismayed by the commissioners' decision, the majority of the landowners were pleased.

The petitioners retain the right to appeal the case in Fayette County Common Pleas Court.

MANOR'S UNCLE SAM—Cynthia Mustine, summer activities coordinator for the Court House Manor Nursing Home, is pictured with two residents of the manor who were recent contest winners. A special presentation was awarded Walter McLean, who was named "Uncle Sam of Court House Manor," by the residents and employees. The title was awarded to McLean because of his compassion and love for both the residents and employees. He received a flag tie tac and the history of the real Uncle Sam. Mrs. Ona Parrett came closest to guessing the number of beans in a jar. Runners-up in the contest were Mrs. Mae Kinzer, Elza Peters, Florence Boylan and Mrs. Edna Anderson. They all received bicentennial silver dollars and quarters. John Gunnoe, not pictured, was presented a bicentennial flag for being the oldest resident of the manor, at the age of 100 years.

Take a really good look at upholstered furniture before you buy it. If what you see on the outside isn't up to quality standards, chances are the inside construction won't be any better. (Photo courtesy of Norwalk)

How To Spot Good Quality Sofas And Chairs

By Jan Brown

Author of "Buy It Right"

One of the problems faced by consumers shopping for upholstery is that, at first glance, many sofas and chairs look very much alike. But, closer inspection will reveal many differences which indicate the quality of workmanship. Knowing what quality features to look for when selecting upholstered furniture will enable you to get the best value for your money.

Try to separate a seam with your thumb and forefinger; there should be no give. Seams should be straight, tightly-sewn with color coordinated thread and devoid of loose threads.

G. Charles Ray, design specialist for Norwalk Furniture Corp., suggests that you stand to the side, away from the sofa or chair to get an overall view. The welting should not appear wavy. The cushions should fit closely and evenly with each other and snugly into corners. They should not buckle or bulge at the edges.

Stripes and plaids should be well-matched. The design found in the center of one cushion should be in the same position on all cushions. The line of the fabric weave should be parallel with the construction lines of the upholstered piece.

If there is a straight or pleated skirt, it should hang evenly and have an inner lining to hold it straight and prevent wrinkling (except for very heavy fabrics).

A good quality sofa or chair is well-padded all over, and this is especially important on the arms since they are usually the first place to show wear. If the padding is adequate, you should feel a thick layer between the frame and the upholstery material.

Where there is tufting, the tufts should be of equal depth. The button line should be straight and even and the buttons drawn through the upholstery with a heavy cord, not merely tacked on with ordinary thread.

It is important that you tell the sales person what kind of use the new item will receive. Holthouse has trained personnel to guide you in the best selection for your needs and budget, not merely sell you.

New York beach pollution

Those are noisome chickens indeed that have some home to roost along recreational beaches in the New York City area. Some 70 miles of shoreline, a playground for millions of people, has been stricken by the worst ecological disaster in years. Sludge composed of items ranging from beer cans and bits of plastic to oil and raw sewage has been washed onto the beaches.

Some of this noxious material is said to have been floating well out to sea for years, held offshore by normal tides and wave action. Some is thought to be of recent origin. The stuff has wound up on shore, the experts seem to have concluded, because of an unusual combination of wind and tide.

Wherever this vast, polluting mass was drawn from by these conditions, there is no doubt as to where it originated as a general thing. It is the product of a highly industrialized society with a sophisticated technology - which rids itself of solid wastes by shockingly primitive methods.

New York City and northern New Jersey communities, for example, still pour untreated sewage into the ocean, just as shore residents did a century and more ago. The Hudson River is used as a beast of burden to haul almost 400 million gallons of raw sewage daily out to sea (but not very far out). Then, too, for many years the metropolis has dumped garbage about 10 miles east of Sandy Hook in a so-called "dead sea" area. There are better means of disposing of sewage and other waste materials cast off by the millions of people in the area. These better means cost more. Yet the greater expense must be weighed against the multi-faceted costs of the present system which burdens the sea with gross pollution: the harm to shellfish and other marine life, the esthetic offense, the occasional heavy loss to holiday-gearred business along the beaches, the menace to public health.

This summer's pollution is worse than usual. Perhaps it is bad enough to prod city, state and federal authorities into fundamental corrective action.

THESE DAYS...By John Chamberlain

Does press give Chile fair shake?

SANTIAGO (KFS) — Quite understandably, the Chileans at the meeting of the Organization of American States did a lot of complaining about the treatment of their country in the "big international press." But it was not just a matter of Chilean indignation.

Actually, the groundswell that resulted in 21 out of 23 votes (with two abstentions) in favor of the proposition that the Chilean government is "putting into practice" the means of observing human rights was started by little Granada, a new West Indian state that has been troubled by Castroite murders.

In a heated display in one of the informal sessions not open to the public, Eric M. Gairy, prime minister of Granada, lashed out at a double standard of press treatment which, he claimed, had victimized Chile. The foreign ministers of Costa Rica and Uruguay went along with Gairy. When all the forensic shooting was over, the OAS as a whole had tacitly repudiated Henry Kissinger's strong chastisement of the Chilean government for permitting murder and torture of political prisoners.

Well, what about it? It is perfectly true that the second Inter-American Commission report on the condition of human rights in Chile, covering a period from August of 1974 to March of 1976, contained numerous examples of "homicides imputed to the authorities." They make for some grisly reading. But the important question, at the moment of the OAS gathering, was the trend. Are things getting better? And is Chile getting a fair shake for its efforts to keep its own DINA, or security police, in check when it comes to using torture to extract confessions?

As for the trend, the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights, in the "final conclusion" of its second report, summed things up by saying "there has been a quantitative reduction in the infringement of certain fundamental human rights. That is, a reduced frequency of arbitrary arrests, a shortening, even though not general, of the duration of deprivations of liberty without due process and in restrictions on the use of exceptional wartime jurisdiction and procedures."

The Commission commended the Chilean government's "recent Supreme Decree 187, which, if rigorously applied in its letter and spirit, could reduce the disappearance of detained persons, eliminate the application of inhumane treatment, as well as reduce considerably the number of irregular detentions."

A foreign reporter is troubled that, even now, some 300 to 400 by local count, of 800 by an estimation that comes from the "Anglo-Saxon embassies," are still being detained and waiting for legal "processing" in the three jails that have been set aside for political prisoners. The figures have been fully exploited in the "international press" that the prime minister of Granada and the foreign minister of Costa Rica were complaining about. But there are other figures that have not had any appreciable publicity outside of Chile itself.

Christian Democrats, who have no reason to take uncritical positions on government claims, point out that 153 Chilean police and military officers are or have been on trial for alleged abuses of power and 40 have been convicted, with a few being executed.

As for the "disappearances," there are no trustworthy figures. More often than not the police are blamed for them. But nobody knows how many of the "disappearances" have resulted from name-changing for protective reasons and continuing recruitment for the leftist underground that still certainly exists.

A visiting American, trying to defend his own press, finds himself undercut by the appearance, on downtown Santiago news stands, of a TIME magazine story that flatly says the OAS conference did nothing to change the image of Chile on its own continent. The TIME story found it somewhat startling that the OAS report in full. But TIME itself said nothing about the conclusion of the report that there had been a "quantitative reduction" in the infringement of human rights.

It is this sort of one-sided representation of the news that ties an American's tongue.

Road becomes prophet of doom

RAVENNA, Ohio (AP) — As those presidential candidates promise the sky and more, a road—namesake of two of them—is playing the prophet of doom.

About 12 miles to the southeast of this community sits Carters Ford road, serving the homesteads of a few older residents of the rural county and a campground. It's a dead end street.

Ohio Perspective

Drug law penalty review progresses

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Fewer than 800 prisoners have had their sentences shortened or won outright release since lighter penalties in the new Drug Abuse Control law took effect last November.

Enactment of the law meant prisoners who had already served sufficient time under the new penalty structure had the right to petition for their release.

Although stiff mandatory sentences in the law took effect Thursday, shorter terms for marijuana and other soft drug offenses has been the law since last Nov. 21.

In fact, most of the new penalties took effect with the marijuana law—minus the mandatory minimum sentences which would have violated the legal doctrine of expo facto. That is, stronger penalties could not be applied to crimes committed before those penalties were enacted.

"Any sentence that had been given in the past could be reviewed," noted Leo J. Conway, deputy chief of the attorney general's criminal activities division. Generally, he added, the transitional period was "very, very smooth."

Release or sentence modification usually resulted after consultations between inmates attorneys and prosecutors, with any agreement forwarded to a judge who could make the adjustment.

The flood gates did not open wide. John Canney, research director for the Department of Rehabilitation and Correction, reports that 639 inmates had their sentences shortened and 123—the majority marijuana offenders—walked out.

Eight-hundred to 1,000 prisoners are still doing time in the Ohio penal system for narcotics violations and the reviewing of sentences will continue, though probably at a lesser rate, Canney said.

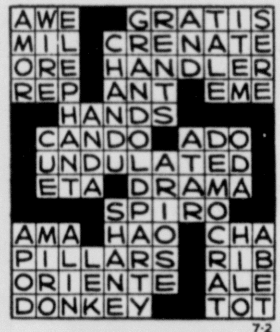

Suspects arrested in the future, however, face the full force of the new penalties, which in many cases are shorter in overall length, but include the absolute minimums, with no opportunity for a suspension, probation or shock parole.

By legislative act, the marijuana penalties took effect 90 days after Gov. James A. Rhodes signed the drug bill, since it was thought useless to attempt to enforce the old tougher sanctions with a new law pending.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Shows porno movies at card club

DEAR ABBY: For five years, four of us couples have met once a month to play cards. Well, last month one of the men brought a movie projector and all the gear, plus some dirty movies he had rented, and proceeded to show a filthy movie!

Two of the men were all for seeing these movies, but their wives were not. I stopped the idiot as soon as I realized what kind of "entertainment" he had brought to the card club.

Abby, I think the people who make such filth should be burned at the stake, and the nuts who buy them should be locked in institutions.

Awaiting your reply. Sign me . . .
SICK OF FILTH
DEAR SICK: Filth doesn't bother me unless it intrudes upon my right to avoid it. However, I am opposed to burning and incarcerating those whose taste in entertainment differs from mine.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I were recently invited to dinner at the home of another couple. The invitation was for 8 p.m.

We arrived promptly and were fed cocktails and chips and dips for what seemed to be an eternity. Finally dinner was announced at 10:30.

"Dinner consisted of raw meatballs, sausages and shrimp that we had to cook in a fondue. Nothing would cook properly. Everything was charred on the outside and raw on the inside.

After "dinner" everyone retired to the living room. My husband and I left exactly 11 minutes after eating.

We were both sick that night. Should we let our hostess know that we were sick? Must I send a "thank-you" note for such a poor excuse for a dinner? Has anyone ever sent a "NO thank you" note?

SICK IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR SICK: Write a "thank you" note anyway and don't mention your illness. And if this couple has nothing more than food for the stomach to offer, void future invitations to their place.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very best friend whom I love dearly. She and her husband have been best friends with my husband and me for many, many years, and they are in our home often. She is the sweetest lady I've ever known and would do anything in the world for me.

The problem is that she is a chain smoker. She talks with her hands and waves her cigarette around. She burns herself, my furniture, my carpets and my curtains. She lets the ashes fall all over the food when she's eating. Once she even set her dinner napkin on fire!

When she leaves, even though I air out the house, the smell of the smoke lingers in my draperies, the clothes I was wearing and even in my hair!

She knows how much cigarette smoke bothers me (and her husband hates them, too), but she absolutely cannot quit!

I can't tell my best friend not to smoke in my house. My husband says, "Nobody's perfect you have to take the bad with the good."

Please be realistic, Abby. Is there a solution?

SMOKED OUT IN GADSDEN, ALA.

DEAR SMOKED: When she arrives, hand her a LARGE ash tray and ask her to please be careful with her cigarettes. If she gets careless, remind her. Also, place two or three dishes of vinegar wherever she is. The vinegar will help to absorb the cigarette odor. And lastly, pray for her.

Today In History

Today is Friday, July 2, the 184th day of 1976. There are 182 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in History:
On this date in 1881, President James Garfield was shot by a disappointed Chicago office-seeker, Charles Guitea, in the Washington railroad station. Garfield died September 19th.

On this date:
In 1862, President Abraham Lincoln signed the Morrill Act, giving the states 13 million acres of land to establish landgrant colleges.

In 1890, the Sherman Antitrust Act was passed.

In 1937, pilot Amelia Earhart Putnam was last heard from on a flight over the Pacific.

In 1949, during World War II, the collaboration French government moved to the resort city of Vichy.

In 1955, Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson suffered a heart attack.

In 1964, Johnson, then President, signed the most far-reaching civil rights bill since Reconstruction days.

Ten years ago: France exploded an atomic bomb at a Pacific atoll in the first of a series of six tests.

Five years ago: Three Soviet cosmonauts who died near the end of a space voyage were buried as heroes in the Kremlin Wall in Moscow.

One year ago: President Ford signed a housing bill increasing by $10 billion the government's authority to purchase home mortgages.

Centennial footnote: 200 years ago today, the Continental Congress in Philadelphia formally adopted a resolution for independence from Britain, declaring that the Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent states. The vote was unanimous, with only New York abstaining.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCES DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

SATURDAY, JULY 3

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
Difficult situations? Analyze, then attack — with self-confidence and optimism. You can utilize your connections profitably in the p.m.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21)
Precision and perception needed now. Curb a tendency to wander from a prescribed course. Aim to see both sides of controversial issues.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)
Mercury fairly favorable, but be careful not to overstep sensible bounds. There's temptation now to exaggerate, underestimate, go to extremes, generally.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)
Some friction evident. Be your practical self and problems will no magnify. They can always be simplified if you put your mind to it.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Astrue judgment needed; also self-restraint under pressure. Be tactful in speech, cautious in finalizing agreements. Some tricky spots indicated.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Avoid skepticism, doubt, pessimism. On the other hand, don't fall for any suggestions which common sense tells you have but dubious value.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
A day for listening! Give careful thought to all that is said in conversations, discussions. You could learn much to your advantage.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Some restraint needed. Just because another's idea sounds "intriguing" does not mean it is best for YOU. Think!

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Some unexpected moves will call for alertness in all areas. Don't be overly suspicious where it's not warranted, however.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
You will be judged more by actions than by words. But be sure that BOTH register to your benefit. Discuss "sticky" problems with knowing heads.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Curb tendencies toward extravagance, pacing yourself too hectically. Tendencies toward extremism abound.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Don't insist on your own way if others disagree, except where right must prevail. Enjoy friends whose interests revive your spirits.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a great love of the theater and, if properly trained in early years, could excel as an actor, director or producer of plays, or as a dramatic critic. You also have a talent for writing and would make an excellent journalist or novelist. Other fields suited to your abilities: finance, insurance, publishing, chemistry, engineering or designing. On the personal side, you are affectionate, generous, sympathetic, a devoted spouse and parent. Try, however, to curb tendencies toward jealousy and hypersensitivity.

REMEMBER THE SABBATH DAY TO KEEP IT HOLY!!

The sabbath day is the only day out of the week that God set aside for his day of rest.

It is also known as the Lord's Day, it's God's Sanctified Day, and his Holy Day and also a commandment day of his or the Ten Commandments and his Memorial Day, when after he made heaven and earth and rested this seventh day from all his work. A blessing for Senior Citizens concerning their old age that they shall still bring forth fruit in Psalms 92.

Jacob's Sons Avenge a Wrong

And they slew Hamor and Shechem his son . . . and took Dinah out of Shechem's house. -Genesis 34: 26

Shortly after the reconciliation of Jacob and Esau, the former went to Succoth, where he bought land for farming. Dinah, the daughter of Jacob and Leah, went out to get acquainted with the women of the land, which was governed by Prince Hamor, and was soon espied by Shechem, son of Hamor. Overwhelmed by her beauty, he took her and ravished her. Then, having fallen in love with her, he beseeched his father to negotiate their marriage with Jacob. Jacob met with Hamor and, after much bargaining, gave his consent to the marriage of Dinah and Shechem. But Jacob and his sons, Simeon and Levi, were still wrathful over Dinah's defilement. Her brothers were especially wroth and, without telling Jacob, went forth and killed all the men of Hamor's household, including the ruler and his son.

SPECIAL PROGRAM — The Gregg Street Church Ensemble will present John W. Peterson's "I Love America" at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the Gregg Street Church. There is no admission charge.

Meaning of death seen as 'separation'

By DENNIS HOWARD

Pastor of the Fayette Bible Church
Almost everyone is interested in living. This precious gift of life, which is given by God, is clung to tenaciously until the last breath. At the end of life, however comes death, the grim reaper that takes loved ones away. According to the Bible, death is the result of sin. (Rom. 6:23) All will die, because all have sinned (Rom. 3:23).

From a study of the many passages in the Bible on death, we find these interesting facts: (1) The basic meaning of death is not annihilation, nor cessation of being. On the contrary, the meaning of death is separation. Physical death is a termination of physical life by the separation of body and soul (Phil. 1:23; Acts 7:59; James 2:26; John 19:30).

God does not annihilate anything in His creation. Life and death are not opposed to each other as existence and non-existence, but are opposites only as different modes of existence. (2) There is abundant testimony in the Scriptures that the soul does not sleep after death, but that it continues to live even after its separation from the body. This has always been the firm conviction of orthodox Christianity.

Suggested Scriptures which prove this point are as follows. (Psalms 16:10; 49:14, 15; Job. 19:25-27; II Tim 1:10; Matt. 10:28; Luke 23:43; Luke 16:19 - 31; II Cor. 5:1-6)
The Apostle Paul said that he had a desire to depart and to be with Christ, which was far better. (Phil. 1:23) (3) The clear conclusion of the Bible is that there is a place of conscious torment for the wicked after death, and a place of conscious bliss for the righteous, in the presence of the Lord Jesus Christ.

It is interesting indeed how many times the Lord Himself spoke on the topics of death, hell and heaven. Although many may choose not to believe the testimony of the Word of God, that does not change in any way what it so clearly teaches. For the Christian, death ceases to be the grim

Three churches present service

In honor of America's bicentennial, the Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian congregations of Bloomingburg will hold a joint worship service at 11 a.m. Sunday.

Scheduled to take place in the Bloomingburg Methodist Church, the event will feature a sermon topic entitled, "A Bicentennial Thanks." Communion will also be included in the service.

Bible school set

A vacation Bible School will be presented in the Bloomingburg Presbyterian Church from July 5 through 9.

Classes will be conducted daily from 9:15 to 11:15 a.m., and children aged three through 14 are welcomed to attend.

reaper that it is for many. Jesus Christ defeated the slayer on the Cross and there is now eternal life for the believer.

Physical death loses its sting as it becomes a brief doorway into the everlasting presence of our Saviour.

Episcopalians plan historic worship rites

A special bicentennial service will be conducted at 10 a.m. Sunday in St. Andrews Episcopal Church.

The morning prayer will be conducted according to the 1662 Book of Common Prayer, which was in use in America in 1776. The rector, Dr. Leroy Davis will be delivering a sermon written at that time.

Members of the altar guild will be dressed in old-fashioned clothes, and there will be a special coffee hour on the church lawn following the service.

Guests are cordially invited to attend the service, held in commemoration of 200 years of religious freedom in the United States.

Convention to greet 16,000

A four day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses has been scheduled to take place in Richfield from July 8 through 11.

According to William O. Hall, a spokesman for the Washington C.H.

area Jehovah's Witnesses, the Richfield event will center discussion on "the great spiritual void in human society today, and how this void can be filled."

Hall said that 16,000 Jehovah's Witnesses are expected to attend the convention.

Church conducts anniversary fete

The Samantha Free Will Baptist Church will celebrate its 25th anniversary at 10:45 a.m. Sunday with a special singing program presented by the Lumsford family of Dayton.

The afternoon services will take place at 2 p.m., and George Lute of Wheelersburg, will be the guest speaker. Souvenirs will be given away, and a fellowship gathering with refreshments will be held immediately after the afternoon service.

Madison Mills sets observance

A continuous bicentennial program will be featured between 9:30 and 11:30 a.m. Sunday in the Madison Mills United Methodist Church.

The presentation of the bicentennial recognition will take place during the worship service and church school hours. Those attending the program may dress in bicentennial costume if they so desire.

Pictures and memorabilia of yesteryear will be on display in the church, and each family is requested to bring sandwiches and cookies.

SHIRLEY M. WRIGHT
AND
MICHAEL A. PRESTON

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wright Sr. 915 Dayton Ave., are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Shirley Marie, to Michael Alan Preston, 611 Perdue Plaza, son of Mrs. Lorene Preston, 620 E. Paint St. The double ring ceremony will take place on September 3, in the Sugar Grove Methodist Church.

Miss Wright is a 1972 graduate of Washington Senior High School and is currently employed by the Huntington Bank of Washington Court House. Her fiancé is a 1970 graduate of Miami Trace High School and attended Ohio University. He is presently employed at Cor-Tec. An open church wedding is being planned.

William Horney Chapter, DAR, assists at dedication ceremony

Members of William Horney Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution of Jeffersonville, were hostesses to the London Chapter, DAR, on Sunday, June 27, following a DAR bronze marker dedication at Fairview Cemetery near Jeffersonville, for Mrs. F. Edythe Horney Whitaker, (Mrs. Ralph O.), vice president General from 1953-1956, the state regent 1951-1953. She was a member of the London Chapter, the organizing regent of William Horney Chapter, and an associate member.

Following the playing of the National Anthem (taped), Mrs. Delmer Cordle, regent of the London chapter, gave the welcome. Mrs. C. Gray Hussey, state chaplain, gave the invocation. Mrs. Glenn McClimans led the Pledge of Allegiance. State historian Mrs. H.H. Haworth gave remarks and introductions. Mrs. Norman Wissinger, regent of William Horney Chapter, placed a DAR flag in the marker on behalf of the chapter. The eulogy was presented by Mrs. Harvey S. Minton, Honorary State Regent. Mrs. Merritt S. Huber, State Regent, the dedication, and Mrs. Hussey closed with the benediction. A taped recording of "The Lord's Prayer" was played.

Later the group assembled at the Lions Club rooms, Jeffersonville, for the social hour.

The tea table was attractive with a patriotic theme. An arrangement of blue and white delphiniums with red roses in a white container and twin crystal hurricane lamps centered the table with crystal and silver service. Cookies, nuts, mints, punch and coffee were enjoyed by more than 40 guests. Mrs. Marvin Stockwell and Mrs. Harold Cline presided at the table.

Guests present were Mrs. Merritt S. Huber, State Regent, OSDAR; Mrs. John Williams, state vice regent, OSDAR, and Mr. Williams; Mrs. Dean Powell, state treasurer and Mr. Powell; Miss Amanda Thomas, honorary state regent; Mrs. Carl Keitzman, honorary state regent; Mrs. C. Gray Hussey, state chaplain; Mrs. H.E. Kitzmiller, state recording secretary; Mrs. Ralph Acton, state organizing secretary; Mrs. Ralph Douglass, state parliamentarian; Miss Dorothy Street, Southwest district director.

Mrs. H.H. Haworth, state historian; Mrs. Harvey Minton, honorary state regent and Mr. Minton; Mr. and Mrs. William R. Kramer from Chillicothe; Mrs. R.L. Wouthrick of Columbus.

Members from London chapter were Mrs. Flora Hunt, regent, Mrs. Arlene Dickerson, Mrs. Nancy Rettick, Mrs. Nancy Robinson, Mrs. Delmer Cordle, Mrs. Edgar A. Yerian, Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. Mary Autrey, Mrs. Margaret Chance, Mrs. Glenn McClimans and Mrs. David Smith.

Members from William Horney Chapter were Mrs. Norman Wissinger, regent, Mrs. Eugene Avey, Miss Helen Fults, Mrs. Robert Little, Mrs. Ance Creamer, Mrs. Otis Thompson, Mrs. Charles Cline, Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, Mrs. Richard Craig, Mrs. Marvin Stockwell and Mrs. Harold Cline.

ROUGH RIDERS 4-H

The Rough Riders 4-H Club meeting was brought to order by Lynne Acton, and pledges were made, roll called and reports made.

Old business was that a rule was set that no one, expect immediate family, was to ride the member's horse 30 days prior to the fair. The next meeting will be held at Braden's Woods, and Sharon Baird and Joan Jordan will bring refreshments.

BOSTON CREAM PIE WITH PEANUTS

- 3/4 cup cold milk
- 1/2 cup heavy cream
- 1 package instant banana cream pudding
- 1/4 cup finely chopped Planters Cocktail Peanuts
- 1 (9-inch) cake layer, baked, cooled and split
- 2 tablespoons margarine
- 1 square (1-ounce) unsweetened chocolate
- two-third cup unsifted confectioner's sugar
- 2 tablespoons plus 1 teaspoon boiling water

Chopped Planters Cocktail Peanuts
Pour milk and heavy cream into mixing bowl. Add pudding and slowly beat with egg beater for 2 minutes. Mix in 1/4 cup finely chopped Planters Cocktail Peanuts.

Place bottom half of cake layer on serving dish; top with banana-nut filling. Let set 5 minutes, then top with remaining half of layer.

Melt together margarine and unsweetened chocolate. Stir in confectioner's sugar and boiling water. Beat well until blended. Pour over cake. Garnish top with chopped peanuts. Chill at least 1 hour before serving. Makes one 9-inch cake.

MRS. ROBERT BURNS

Marriage vows exchanged in Chillicothe June 19

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Krista Ellen Wolford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Wolford, Rt. 1, Frankfort, and Mr. Robert Burns II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns II, Rt. 2, Frankfort, June 19, at 8:30 p.m. in the First Christian Church, Chillicothe. A reception followed in the church social rooms.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Larry Green-den, minister of the church, following a program of wedding music by Virginia Sampson. Aisle candles trimmed with garlands of ivy, daisies and white satin bows lighted the pews. Candelabra entwined with ivy garlands and satin bows lighted the altar, where an arrangement of white gladioli, white pompons, daisies and ivy was placed. On either side were potted palms.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was wearing a formal length gown of silk organza trimmed in Venice lace. The princess styled bodice featured a portrait neckline edged in lace, and cap sleeves. The flounced A-line skirt had an attached chapel-length train. A matching chapel-length veil complimented the bride's gown. The bride's cascade bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, white carnations, stephanotis and ivy was centered around a white lace handkerchief, which belonged to the bride's grandmother.

Matron of honor Mrs. Lonnie P. Frey of Rt. 1, Frankfort, wore a formal length gown of mint green dotted Swiss, and white hat trimmed in dotted Swiss. She carried an arm bouquet of carnations and daisies.

Bridesmaids Mary Clark and Carol

Mrs. Jett Ladies Aid hostess

Mrs. Eva Jett was hostess for the New Martinsburg Ladies Aid, when Mrs. Joe McClure conducted the business meeting. She read "Love is Faithful" for the opening thought, and Mrs. Robert Ritter presented devotions assisted with readings by Mrs. Edward Lee Carson, Mrs. Naomi Wing and Mrs. McClure.

A historical happening in the 1800's was given during roll call by each present. Mrs. Nathaniel Tway had on display program booklets dating back to 1933, she presented the program topic, "Good Thoughts of Yesterday to Think About Today," and "Niger River and Those Who Defied It."

Welcome Wagon Club and guests meet for picnic

Fifty-one mothers, grandmothers and children of the Welcome Wagon Club met at Eymann Park Wednesday for a picnic. Hot dogs and hamburgers were served along with potato salad, baked beans, potato chips and a variety of desserts. The children greatly enjoyed the park facilities.

The picnicers were Mrs. Robert Yates, Matthew and Amy, Mrs. William Autrey, Jeff, Angie and Leah, Karin and Kevin Downing, Mrs. Robert Snodgrass, John and Betsy, Mrs. Theresa Reese and Carolyn, Mrs. Gordon White, Mike and Bob, Mrs. Larry Lawrie and Jamie Woods, Mrs. Willis Geyer Jr., Mendi, Jimmie and Scottie, Mrs. Robert Sicker and Suzanne, Mrs. James McCracken and Ludwick, and flower girls Mary Dawn Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hill of Good Hope, and Brandy Free, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Free of Frankfort, were attired in gowns like that of the honor attendant, except in shades of lavender, peach, yellow and pink dotted Swiss, with matching picture hats. Brent Free of Rt. 3, Chillicothe, was the ringbearer.

Charles Caplinger of Rt. 1, Frankfort, served as best man. Seating the wedding guests were James Burns, Lonnie P. Frey, William Starr and James Hatton.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a formal length turquoise double knit gown with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a long blue double knit gown with which she also combined white accessories. Each had a white orchid corsage.

Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Larry Free, Mrs. Charles Caplinger, Mrs. John Hill and Mrs. Leroy Farris.

The new Mrs. Burns is a student at Adena High School. Her husband, a 1975 Adena High School graduate, is employed by Burn's Home Improvements in Frankfort.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns II were hosts at the rehearsal dinner held at the Valley House, Chillicothe.

The couple is residing at Rt. 1, Frankfort, following a wedding trip to Kings Island Inn.

Prenuptial showers were given by Mrs. Larry Clark and Miss Mary Clark, honoring the new bride, and also by Mrs. Leroy Farris, Mrs. Larry Free and Mrs. Ivan Shaffer. A bridal luncheon also was hosted by Mrs. Rodger Graves and Mrs. Lonnie P. Frey.

Mrs. Kenneth Jones and Mrs. Jett played the piano accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd Rhoads.

Those present were Mrs. George Durnell, Mrs. Russell Grice, Mrs. C.A. Wilson, Mrs. Wing, Mrs. Tway, Mrs. Robert Ritter, Mrs. Carson, Mrs. McClure, Mrs. Jett, and guests, Mrs. Kenneth Jones, Mrs. Lucy Smith, Mrs. Heber Winegar, Mrs. Russell Syferd, Mrs. Mildred Campbell of Columbus, Mrs. Lloyd Rhoads, Mrs. Donald Gross, and Miss Louise Ritter.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Robert Bach, Aug. 11 at 2 p.m.

Chad, Mrs. Dennis Wollam and Jennifer, her grandmother and friend, Dawn, Mrs. Bill Tippet and Jennifer, Mrs. Sue Hung, Min-chen and Richmond, Mrs. L.F. Chen and Vivien, Mrs. Hank Shaffer and Kristen, Mrs. Agnes Riley, Tim and Maureen, Mrs. Steve Colburn, Teresa, Steve and Dan, and Mrs. Robert Caughron. Guests were Mrs. White and Mrs. Sharri Kunkleman and Matthew.

PERSONALS

Mrs. Anabel Ater will be the weekend guest of her son-in-law and daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Turner of Grove City.

Wagon Train Pilgrimage joined by two

Two members of the Happy Trails Riding Club, Mrs. Jane Rankin and Mr. C.A. "Hap" Wilson had the opportunity to be a part of the Bicentennial Wagon Train Pilgrimage. The wagon train that they joined left Blaine, Wash., in June, 1975, and will arrive at the destination of all five wagon trains from other areas of the United States on July 3. All trains will meet at Valley Forge State Park, Pa. The local riders joined at Columbia Station near Cleveland, and rode 60 miles.

The Bicentennial Pilgrimage provided each of the 50 states with a Conestoga wagon or a prairie schooner and arranged for a teamster and horses for each wagon. The wagons are authentically reproduced at Arkansas Village, Jonesboro, Ark. The five caravans began rolling this spring toward the July 4 rendezvous at Valley Forge, the hallowed encampment of Washington's troops during the winter of 1777-1778.

Local wagon and carriage buffs, pleasure riders and entire horse clubs have joined the train as its crosses their county or state. As the Washington Train crossed Ohio there were 43 wagons and 175 outriders. It is estimated that by the time the wagons reach their destination there will be 2,000 travelers.

The group travels about four miles per hour and moves eight hours every day. The train is escorted by Cuyahoga mounted police.

After the parade at Valley Forge on July 4th, the wagons will be on display there for the summer and there will be a daily wagon train show just as there was each night on the journey across the U.S. in October, the wagons will be returned to their home state.

Marriage announced

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Mark of 1254 Dayton Ave. are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Joan King, to Randall Cline, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cline of Ohio Route 41-S, Greenfield.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Allen Pufenberger in the chapel, of Grace United Methodist Church, June 26th, with Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Wysong attending the couple.

A reception for the immediate family and close friends was held in the bride's home. The bride is a student at Washington High School. The groom graduated from Miami Trace High School and is engaged in farming. After a short wedding trip, the young couple will be living at 301 N. Main Street.

Wedding announced

A lawn wedding was the setting for the marriage of Ms. Lorraine Hamby and Mr. David Aaron Frye at the Lakeside of Ms. Joyce McDaniel, near Frankfort. The Rev. Frank Cox officiated for the single ring ceremony June 19.

The background for the wedding ceremony was ivy covered trellis with yellow pompons with yellow ribbons. Music heard during the ceremony and following reception included "Look of Love" and "A Man and a Woman" by Floyd Cramer.

The bride chose a floor-length ivory chiffon gown with V-neckline empire waist and long sleeves of lace. The neckline and bodice were also trimmed in lace. Her bouquet was of yellow daisies, yellow roses and baby's breath with greenery.

Ms. Elizabeth Johnson of Washington Manor Court, life-long friend of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a formal length princess style gown with a corsage of white daisies and roses.

Children of the bride, Brenda presided at the guest book, and Johnny was the usher. John Frye of East Monroe served as best man for his brother.

Two other daughters of the bride, Teresa and Rhonda, chose blue and yellow floor-length gowns for the occasion. They also had corsages of yellow and white daisies.

Mrs. Burnice Frye of Samantha, mother of the groom, wore a blue and green long sleeved dress and a green cymbidium orchid at her shoulder.

The reception was held in the out-of-doors. The new Mrs. Frye is employed at Frisch's in Washington C.H. Her husband is a machinist at Mac Tool in Sabina. They are now residing in Washington C.H.

TV Viewing

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The indefatigable Bob Hope is sending 200th birthday greetings to his adopted land via a "Bicentennial Star Spangled Spectacular" to compete with the sky-rockets on July 4.

"We'll have the television news as it might have been done 200 years ago," he promised. "Also, the 'Tonight' show 100 years ago with Ed McMahon and Doc Severinson in costume — Doc didn't have to change clothes for it. We'll have Debbie Reynolds playing 'Mary Hartford, Mary Hartford,' and I'll be King George."

"There'll be so much straight stuff on NBC all day that I think people will welcome us when we come on and hoke it up. We'll also have a salute to American heroes, but different ones — like Irving Berlin, Sachmo, Jimmy Cagney as George M. Cohan, Wilbur and Orville Wright."

His guest list includes Sammy Davis Jr., Donny and Marie Osmond, the Captain and Tennille, plus cameos by Phyllis Diller, Steve Allen, Angie Dickinson, Rowan and Martin, Don Knotts, Ron Howard and Jimmy Walker.

But who's going to watch television on the night of Uncle Sam's biggest birthday?

"I think we'll get a helluva share," observed Hope, referring to the Nielsen figure for share-of-audience. "And I think a lot of people will be home by that hour (8:30 in the East and West). The advertising people have taken surveys that show that working people are generally home by 7 o'clock on holiday nights. So they're pouring a lot of money into radio spots that will reach people with their car radios on the way home."

Such is the kind of planning that has kept Bob Hope in the lead of the TV-special stars for 25 years (he has always insisted on newspaper advertising in major cities whenever his show appears.)

Paul Keyes, one of the creative minds behind "Laugh-In," produced the July 4 show. Hope has been rotating producers during the past season, as part of his policy of seeking new formats. There will even be more diversity next season, he indicated. Among his projects: a two-hour compilation of comedy gems from his TV shows; a three-hour review of his military entertaining dating to 1942.

Hope also plans to fulfill his long-time desire to portray the late Walter Winchell in a movie biography, either for theaters or a TV movie.

Ohio groups in festival

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Four Ohio groups will participate in Fourth of July bicentennial festivities in Philadelphia, Pa.

The Athens and Dover high school marching bands along with the Central Ohio Brigade and the 9-13th Virginia Regiment, both military re-enactment groups, have been invited to the city of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, an event that set in motion the 200-year gestation of the United States bicentennial celebration.

The Ohio organizations will join those from the other 49 states in Philadelphia for a celebration which has assumed a representative nature for the nation as a whole because of that city's central role in the revolution.

But despite that assumed role, the activities there have no more significance for the nation than do parades and celebrations anywhere else, said Dr. Michael J. Devine, administrator of the Ohio American Revolution Bicentennial Advisory Commission.

Ohio turnpike payoff seen

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Ohio Turnpike Commission says it expects to pay all of its $326 million debt by 1981. The debt is due to be paid by 1992.

The turnpike was financed through the issuance of $326 million of 40-year bonds sold in 1952.

Turnpike officials said Wednesday that toll collections continue to climb. Total revenue for the first half of this year is estimated at $21,256,000, or $1,903,000 more than the same period in 1975.

Revenue for June is estimated at $4,500,000, an increase of $273,000, or 6.4 per cent above the income for June of last year.

Rainfall totals 6.80 inches

Long dry spell snapped in June

A three-month dry spell in Washington C.H. was snapped during the month of June.

Precipitation recorded in Washington C.H. during the month of June totaled 6.80 inches, according to Coyt A. Stookey, official Washington C.H. weather observer.

Before June, the Fayette County area had suffered through three straight months in which the precipitation figures were below the established averages. Four of the first five months in 1976 had deficient totals of rainfall; only February was above (.44 of an inch) the established average for the month.

The June rainfall total of 6.80 inches was 2.15 inches over what Washington C.H. received (4.65 inches) during the months of February, April and May.

Stookey reported that the June precipitation was 2.83 inches above the established average of 3.97 inches for the month. However, the Washington C.H. area has received only 17.32 actual inches of rainfall during the first six months of the year and that figure is 4.06 inches below the normal over-the-years average of 21.38 inches for the same period.

Precipitation was recorded on 16 of June's 30 days, ranging from 1.75 inches on the last day of the month to just a trace on June 4. Other substantial amounts of rainfall were received on three days. They included 1.21 inches on June 25, 1.08 inches on June 19 and 1.01 inches on June 2.

The local weather observer noted in his monthly report that precipitation was recorded on four straight days during the month during a period from June 23-26. Rainfall totaled 1.65 inches during that period.

Last year precipitation in Washington C.H. totaled 4.03 inches during June, Stookey reported.

Minimum daily temperatures at Stookey's recording station, located at 134 E. Ohio Ave., ranged from a low of 53 degrees on June 21 and June 5 to a high of 71 degrees on June 15. Maximum daily temperatures ranged from a low of 66 degrees on June 1 to a high of 90 degrees on June 12 and June 13.

Here are the actual Washington C.H. precipitation figures for 1976 as compared with the established averages:

	Act.	Avg.
January	3.19	3.38
February	2.68	2.24
March	1.79	3.99
April	1.13	3.99
May	1.73	3.81
June	6.80	3.97
Totals	17.32	21.38

Storminess diminishes

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorm activity in the East is decreasing both in intensity and area coverage. Only a few showers and thundershowers remained scattered along the Atlantic Coast into New England. Widely scattered thundershowers also stretched along the Rocky Mountains and the Gulf Coast.

Heavy thunderstorms were scattered from northern Oklahoma into Kansas, eastern Nebraska and South Dakota. There were three tornadoes yesterday, one each in Texas, Louisiana and Florida. No damage or injuries were reported.

Cloudy skies were found over the northeastern states and along the Atlantic Coast. Cloudy conditions also were found along the eastern half of the Gulf Coast and from the central Great Plains into the northern Rockies. Clear skies were prevalent over the Southwest, the upper Mississippi Valley and the Ohio Valley. Partly cloudy skies were found elsewhere. Locally dense fog was reported in portions of New England.

Temperatures around the nation at 3 a.m. EDT ranged from 93 at Phoenix, Ariz., to 45 at Arcata, Calif., and Olympia, Wash.

Twins probably think we're the strange ones

Frances," Mrs. Heironimus commented.

Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Heironimus enjoy many of the same activities. They both like to bowl and are active in church work. Similarities abound, but there is one major discrepancy that Mrs. Wilson points out, "I'm a grandmother and Florence isn't!"

A little over two years ago, Karen Rummer and her husband, Noble, 421 N. North St., were anxiously awaiting the birth of what they hoped would be a girl. It had been over a decade since she'd been pregnant, her youngest son, Justin, being 11, and her oldest son, Jason, was 13.

On the morning on May 23, 1974, the Rummers dressed and left for the hospital at 7 a.m. by 8:16 a.m. the number of their children had doubled.

"I remember seeing two babies in the incubator, but it didn't register. Dr. (Joseph) Herbert told me that I had twin girls. We wanted a girl so badly, I just couldn't believe that there were two of them! It was so unexpected," Mrs. Rummer remembered.

Obviously, the Rummers weren't forewarned of the multiple birth. Despite the fact that Karen was able to fit into only one dress during the final two months of her pregnancy, she and her husband were convinced that the child she was carrying was big. Nothing more.

"I never really suspected that I was going to have twins," Mrs. Rummer stated. "One week before the babies were born I felt a movement up high and then one down low and I thought momentarily 'you don't suppose there are two of them in there?' But that was the extent of my suspicion." Jocelyn Fae, and then five minutes later, Jessica Rae, were born to totally unsuspecting parents. Each weighed five pounds at birth and look as much alike now as they did two years ago.

"We left their hospital identification bracelets on them for about two weeks, and the got them identifying charms. I was so afraid that I'd get them mixed up," Mrs. Rummer laughed.

The Rummers' two sons were ecstatic when they learned they had twin sisters. "When we brought the twins home, Justin pulled up a stool beside their crib and just sat there and stared," Mrs. Rummer said.

Mrs. Rummer said that dealing with two babies isn't any more difficult then caring for one. "Everything about Jocelyn and Jessica is identical. They started walking and talking within a day of each other and they like the same foods and eat the same amounts. When we buy toys, we have to buy two of the same kind and color," Mrs. Rummer commented.

"We're trying hard to keep them individuals, but I don't know if we can do it. I sometimes wonder if the girls will suffer from an identity crisis later in life. I told my husband that I was eager for the twins to reach the age where they could articulate what it's like to look exactly like someone else. Will they think it's strange?" Mrs. Rummer questioned. "My husband doesn't seem to think they will react this way. He says that they'll probably think it's odd that there is only one of everybody else."

The mother of the two-year-old twins cited two unusual occurrences.

"One time Noble was playing with the girls. They both had their backs turned to him, so neither could see him. He playfully tugged on the hair of one twin, and the other reacted. She brushed at her neck like one does when someone is fooling with one's hair."

Another time, Mrs. Rummer disciplined one twin, but before the punished twin could respond, the other began to cry.

Mrs. Rummer dresses the twins (one of whom is left-handed the other right-handed) in ruffles and lace because she especially likes the feminine look. "I waited a long time for a girl," she laughed.

"We try not to think of our girls as twins, but as our daughters," Mrs. Rummer concluded.

The O.D. McCrarys, 1036 John St., had three sons when Mrs. McCrary went to the hospital to have her fourth and last child. She was hoping for a girl.

The doctor delivered the baby and said, "Here's your little boy, Doris," and she responded, "Another boy?" The doctor answered, "Well we've got one more to go" and a little girl was born shortly.

The McCrarys were surprised at the multiple birth to say the least. "You would have thought it was my husband's first child," Mrs. McCrary laughed as she described her husband's reaction of being a father of twins.

And Mrs. McCrary's reaction? "At first I was unable to relax. I kept thinking, 'How am I going to care for three babies (the twins and 15-month-old Otis)?' but everything went okay once I got home. I would feed one baby and O.D., who stayed home with me for two weeks, would feed the other. All you could hear were babies sucking on their bottles."

The oldest McCrary boy named the twins Dick and Jane, but apparently, his parents didn't agree with the decision. Delmar and Celeste McCrary, who are now five years old, were the names chosen.

"Delmar arrived first and he weighed five pounds and 13 ounces. Celeste was much bigger and healthier looking, weighing six pounds and four ounces," Mrs. McCrary said.

Mrs. McCrary was only in the hospital for 15 minutes before the twins were born. "I think twins deliver easier than just one baby."

She commented that for a year or more, the twins would go through two or three dozen diapers a day. In retrospect, she remains philosophic about the early days of learning the fundamentals of raising two babies at once. "Some women, when they have twins, feel sorry for themselves, but I didn't. I refused to let it get me down. All a mother of twins has to remember is, don't procrastinate. Get things done ahead of time."

The McCrary twins are totally different personality-wise. "Delmar is more conscientious than Celeste," his mother said. "He's constantly reprimanding her for getting outside the lines when she's coloring, but Celeste is hard-headed and won't listen to him."

"When they showed Celeste to me that first day, she had her mouth open and she's had it open ever since. Delmar, on the other hand, is very quiet," she explained.

Delmar and Celeste will be attending kindergarten this fall and will be in the same class. "I would have preferred to have them separated, but there is only going to be one morning kindergarten class, so I didn't have a choice," Mrs. McCrary said.

Mrs. McCrary sent the twins to the Kiddie Kare Day Center this year so that they would learn to get along with other children. "So far, Delmar seems to be more aggressive in an academic situation, which is unusual. Girls are usually further advanced than boys at this age," she said.

Celeste and Delmar, who are aware they are the same age and born at the same time, acknowledge the fact that they are twins, but it doesn't appear to mean a whole lot to them, just as it doesn't seem to make any difference to the Cook twins. No one knows what the Rummer girls reactions will be to the situation, but it will probably be similar to the other responses.

Like Mrs. Rummer said, they'll probably think the rest of us are the strange ones.

I guess you can't argue with that!

McCrary twins — Pictured are twins, Delmar and Celeste McCrary, children of Mr. and Mrs. O.D. McCrary, 1036 John St. When the twins were born, the oldest McCrary boy commented that his mother must have "really taken good care of herself" in order to get two babies at once.

Community Ed. report

By HANK SHAFFER
Program Director

The summer parks program has begun to roll along a little better this week due to the cooperation of the weather. The youngsters are beginning to turn out at most of the sites for the program in recreation. There has been a switch in that the program at Cherry Hill School did not have the turnout, so they will be asked to participate at Eyman Park and the program at Belle Aire will be held everyday.

This week also started our Gymnastics Camp. Miss Donovan Stickley had more than 40 show up for the three classes in th this relatively new activity in the Washington Court House Area.

Community Education will also have an Advisory Council meeting July 8 at 7 p.m. in the Washington Middle School cafeteria. This meeting is open to anyone interested in Community Education and its workings. This will be the first meeting of the expanded Advisory Council and will be a get acquainted meeting for those people coming for the first time.

Following completion of mural in school cafeteria

Bicentennial meaning more vivid for 50 WSHS artists

In early March, Washington Senior High School students began to notice that drawings were appearing on the south wall of the cafeteria. Eleven American History students and art students, standing on tables, risers and scaffolding, could be seen after school and on weekends drawing a bicentennial mural about education in Fayette County. From the beginning, the mural was conceived as a personal interpretation of the bicentennial in terms of our school and our county. As the mural progressed other students painted what was already drawn. All the students at the high school were invited to work on the project and, before it was finished some 50 had participated.

The title of the mural became "Two Hundred Years of Education and the Community in Fayette County." As the weeks passed the students eating in the cafeteria and working in their study halls watched familiar images on the wall behind them take shape such as Court Street, the Middle School, and the Court House, moving in a progression from past to present. An Indian stands in the wilderness of unexplored Fayette County and looks, perhaps sadly, with a premonition of the future. At the opposite end of the mural, two graduates gaze into the past and present, enjoying the benefits of their heritage.

Settlement of Fayette County is exemplified by a representation of an authentic 1867 map showing facades of homes, churches, and schools. Below the map the mural portrays the development of transportation in the county from the first conestoga wagons through the coming of railroads to a 1920s truck. Above and to the right of the truck are scenes of agriculture, a view down Court Street toward the brick 1820 Court House, the 1885 tornado and the Court Street covered bridge. Some strollers wander down Court Street in authentic costume. A flock of crows winging its way over Court Street represents the thousands of these birds which, along with the passenger pigeons, were a costly nuisance to early farmers.

Education is represented by four views of school buildings. First, to the right of the agricultural scene is a "little red school house" inspired by a painting by Winslow Homer. At one time there were 100 of these schools in the county. This particular school was taken from a photograph of the Jasper school with its distinctive bell tower, double front door and four windows with ornate cornices. Above this there is a small representation of old Central, a school still remembered by some residents of Washington C.H. Dominating the mural's center is the building that served as a high school longer than any other building in Fayette County. It now is the Middle School. A 1910 vintage view of a school marm with book in hand before a class is imposed on a portion of the Middle School. The fourth school building represented is the current high school.

To the left of the Middle School is a painting of the 1885 Court House, still in use. In front of the court house, and below it, are representatives of Fayette County's contributions to America's wars. A Mexican War soldier, a Spanish-American War and World War I soldier, a World War II soldier, a Korean and Vietnam War infantryman, and a Civil War soldier stand in front of a large American flag.

Above and to the left of the soldiers is a map of Fayette County divided to represent townships, major villages, towns and streams.

Adjacent to the 1885 Court House and to the soldiers is the present day high school. Standing next to the high school is a basketball player, a football player, and a girl volleyball player. The mural concludes with the two graduates.

Students working on the mural had a lot of fun and when they had finished they felt a pride in the realism they had achieved as well as in the contribution they had personally made to the appearance of their school. Having made the mural, the school was now more "their" school.

Painting the mural was a learning experience for the students also:

taping long strings to vanishing points and horizon lines made them think a little about depicting depth realistically. Groping with the problem of mixing acrylics and latex paints to achieve flesh tones and various building colors made them think about depicting light and shade. Some of them learned about Thomas Hart Benton and the famous style of regionalism as represented in his murals. They all thought more about what the bicentennial means to Fayette County and their school.

Donald Moore, a member of the Washington Senior High School who supervised the project, said the public is invited to inspect the mural from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily throughout the summer and from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. beginning Sept. 1.

Disposal site turned down

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) — After a marathon 10 hour meeting, the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) reversed a previous decision and voted 6-3 Thursday to deny Reserve Mining Co. on-land disposal permits for Milepost 7.

The MPCA board, acting on the motion of David Zentner, reversed its action of two weeks ago when the board voted 5-4 against a recommendation by Minnesota Hearing Officer Wayne Olson to deny permits for Milepost 7.

Reserve attorney Edward Fride, Duluth, announced immediately after the 11 p.m. vote he will file an appeal of the board's decision.

Earlier in the day, Natural Resources Commissioner Robert Herbst denied Reserve's request for Milepost 7 permits under his jurisdiction.

Reserve's lawyers also appealed Herbst's decision to the district court in Lake County, where its taconite processing plant is located.

At the MPCA's June 15 meeting, Olson announced his support for the Milepost 20, or midway, site, saying Milepost 7 presents a hazard to health and the environment.

Oil output rise slated

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Doubling production of the Yates oil field in West Texas, of which Marathon Oil Co. owns 49.4 per cent, should put an additional 50,000 barrels a day into United States pipelines, the company announced Thursday.

Marathon's 20,000 barrels-a-day share of that doubled figure should bring the company's daily output to 184,000 barrels, said Robert E. McMillen, senior vice president for production in the U.S. and Canada.

Doubling production at the Yates field was approved May 25 by the Texas Railroad Commission on an application from Marathon. The company also expects increased use of the 50-year-old field will add to recovery figures by 200 million barrels.

The Yates field now has 600 producing wells, 400 of which are pulling up crude oil by natural drive. At its deepest point, the field's producing thickness is 500 feet.

Other owners in partnership with Marathon include Amoco, Chevron, Cities Service, Continental, Exxon, Getty, Gulf, Phillips, Shell, Sohio and Union.

Taft and Glenn votes cancelled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Sens. Robert Taft Jr. and John Glenn cast opposite votes Thursday as the Senate confirmed the nomination of Gen. George S. Brown for a second term as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Republican Taft opposed confirmation, while Glenn, a Democrat, voted with the majority.

A Time to Repledge Ourselves . . .

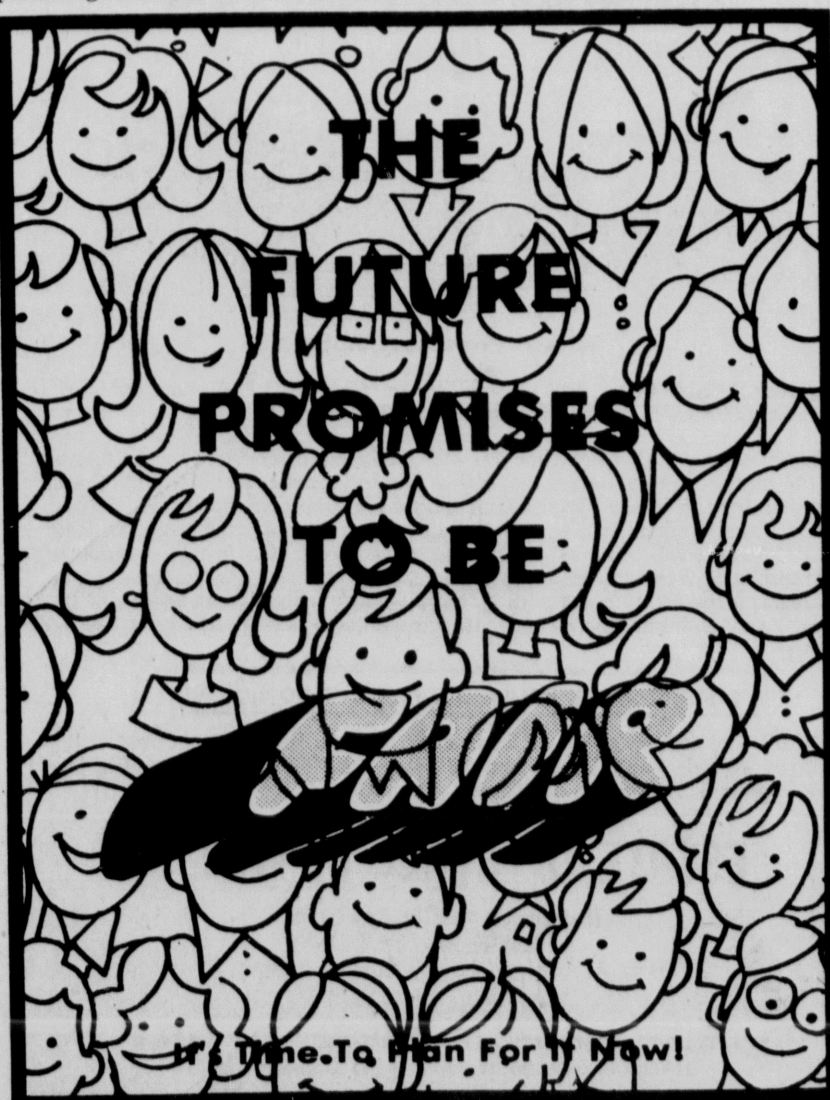

Born of a revolution, this country began with a pledge: liberty and justice for all. Now... 200 years later ...we, the American people, are still striving for these goals. It's easy to find fault...but it takes dedication and unity to bring about change, as our forefathers did. We have the freedom now to do it peacefully. Let's celebrate that freedom today and honor our nation for what's been achieved. Then, let's join together ...with a renewed sense of purpose...to reach our goal.

Flashbulb incident brought ugliness

BOWLING GREEN, Ohio (AP) — Sandy Snyder recalls little of what happened, except how nasty the crowd became immediately after her flashbulb exploded and sent President Ford diving for cover here June 7.

"I don't remember anything except trying to show the crowd the pop had come from my camera, not a gun. Then the Secret Service pulled me away. But Sharon (a friend) said the crowd was pulling my hair and grabbing my neck," she said.

The President was at his next-to-last stop on a 288-mile, 12-hour motorcade through Ohio the day before the crucial Ohio primary, last in the nation and offering 97 delegates. He started in Cincinnati and had just spoken to a large crowd at the Bowling Green State University.

He was working the crowd outside the university field house—shaking hands here and chatting there—when a blinding flash and loud pop sent him to the ground with a blanket of Secret Service bodyguards. The sunburned President turned pale, his face contorted.

"My first thought was 'He's been shot, and oh, my gosh, I could have been hit too,' because I was standing right in front of him. I didn't realize the noise had come from my camera," she said.

The young brunette, who was a high school honor student, attended the campaign rally with her sister, 16-year-old Kathy; her friend, Sharon Gerwin, and her friend's parents.

Miss Snyder had gone to see the President "out of curiosity. I really don't know much about politics."

It was Miss Gerwin who provided Sandy with her immediate recollections of the incident. "She told me about the crowd grabbing for me. It's hard to imagine how they turned on me."

The Secret Service agents were immediately aware of what occurred, hustling her off to a private room and "tried to calm me down. The crowd had upset me plenty."

"They asked me a lot of questions. 'Was I a student? Where did I live? How old was I? They said they needed to know in case the President asked them any questions."

"I guess he did ask because I got a letter and a bracelet with the presidential seal to compensate for my trouble."

After the incident, the Secret Service declined to release her name and her identity did not become known until recently.

Will she ever attend another presidential visit?

"I don't know," she said, "but I'm sure I won't be taking pictures."

Majorettes, drum major hold 22 years experience

A drum major and five majorettes, with combined experience of 22 years, will lead the Washington C.H. Kiwanis Club's bicentennial band in the bicentennial parade here July 4.

Robert English, 1297 Dayton Ave., will serve as drum major. He was head drum major at Washington High School for four years, serving from 1952 until 1956.

The majorettes are headed by Cindy Morton, a 1970 graduate of Washington Senior High School. Miss Morton was a majorette for six years (from 1964 to 1970) on the junior and senior high school levels. She was head majorette at Washington Senior High School during her junior and senior years.

Four former Miami Trace High School majorettes will be marching with the Kiwanis community band.

They are Mrs. Judy (Reiber) Self, Sue Mossbarger, Mrs. Jane Ann (Curry) Redd and Jill Doyle.

Mrs. Reiber, a 1968 Miami Trace High School graduate, was a majorette for three years. She served as head majorette during her senior year. Miss Mossbarger, a 1970 Miami Trace High School graduate, was a majorette three years and served as head majorette during the 1969-1970 school year. A 1967 graduate of Miami Trace High School, Mrs. Redd was a majorette from 1964 until 1967, and Miss Doyle, a 1972 Miami Trace High School graduate, was a majorette with the marching band from 1969 until 1972.

Community sets July 4 activity

SEDALIA—A morning tractor pull and an evening parade will highlight Independence Day activities in Sedalia. There will be daylong activities, including games and concessions prior to a parade at 6 p.m.

There will also be a beef barbecue.

The Transcendentalist Movement was strongly influenced by the writings of James Marsh, philosopher and educational reformer, 1794-1842.

Firemen probing incident

Arson suspected in vehicle fire

Washington C.H. Fire Department officials suspect arson was the cause of a 1:20 a.m. Friday automobile fire at the former home of George R. Hall, 223 E. Circle Ave.

Alerted by neighbors, the blaze in the automobile had already consumed the interior of the vehicle by the time firemen arrived, said Washington C.H. Fire Lt. William Smith.

The car, a 1966 model Cadillac, belonged to Hall, and was parked near his former residence. Hall now resides at 799 McLean St.

Firemen were on the scene for an hour, and used approximately 100 gallons of water to extinguish the car blaze. According to a Washington C.H. police report, there was no battery in the car.

Lt. Smith stated that it appeared that some type of flammable material had been deposited inside the car to kindle the blaze. Once ignited, the inside of the 1966 model auto burned steadily and was hard to approach because of the smoke produced from burning plastic within, Lt. Smith said.

Hall reportedly heard fire sirens and followed the fire trucks to his former home. The Circle Avenue home was partially burned in a midnight fire last month.

Lt. Smith said the incident is under investigation, and a Washington C.H. youth is a possible suspect in the case.

No charges have yet been filed.

Washington C.H. police officers arrested an 11-year-old Washington C.H. boy on a strong armed robbery charge, and investigated a larceny report.

The youth was arrested Thursday following a June 23 incident in which the youth reportedly took $10.49 from another boy while both were in the Fayette County Bank.

The complainant, Paul Z. Pendergraft, 724 Sycamore St., told police officers that he offered the alleged offender a candy sucker. He said the 11-year-old youth replied, "I don't like suckers," grabbed the complainant's $10.49, shoved him, and fled on foot.

The 11-year-old youth has been released into the custody of his parents, pending a hearing in Fayette County Juvenile Court.

Grace L. DeGarmo, 615 Columbus Ave., told police officers that around 7 p.m. Thursday, her home was entered through a broken window, and $95 worth of jewelry was stolen from the premises.

The Fayette County Sheriff's Department reported that a $149.95 citizens band radio belonging to Chester Kier, Hillsboro, was stolen from his truck as it was parked at the Blue Rock Stone Quarry, Ohio 41-S during the night of June 28.

Unemployment rate spurts during June

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment jumped to 7.5 per cent of the work force in June, up two-tenths of a per cent and the biggest monthly climb since the depths of last year's recession, the government said today.

The increase could create election-year difficulties for President Ford. He has said the steady drop in the nation's jobless rate until now has shown that his economic policies are working.

The rise also could bring new pressure for additional government action to create jobs.

However, government economists have said that a rise in the jobless rate would not be a cause for concern. "I wouldn't interpret a rise as a sign of any sudden change in the economy," said Maynard Comiez, a top Commerce Department economist.

The Labor Department said the number of unemployed in June increased by 280,000 to a total of 7.1 million, while the number of employed declined by 200,000 to a total of 87.5 million.

There were increases in unemployment in nearly all categories in the labor force, the department said.

Its statistics showed:

—Adult men, 6 per cent in June, up from 5.6 per cent in May.

—Adult women, 7.1 per cent, up from 6.8 per cent in May.

—Whites, 6.8 per cent, up from 6.6 per cent.

—Blacks, 13.3 per cent, up from 12.2 per cent.

—Heads of households, 5.1 per cent, up from 4.8 per cent in May.

—Married men, 4.4 per cent, up from 4 per cent.

—Teen-age unemployment held virtually steady at 18.4 per cent, down from 18.5 per cent in May.

8 arrested in drug case

TOKYO (AP) — Narcotics police arrested six Americans and two Australians on charges of smuggling hemp and heroin and seized $423,333 worth of illegal drugs, authorities announced today.

Officials said they believed the group refined hemp called "Buddha stick" and heroin from Southeast Asia and were selling the drugs in the Tokyo area. They said the drugs were brought into Japan in double-bottomed suitcases.

Officials said those arrested were V. O. Buckley, 33, an insurance agent from Fort Worth, Tex.; Bruce M. Stewart, 29, unemployed, from Urbana, Ohio; Constance L. Valenza, 26, nude dancer from Felton, Calif.; William D. Brutch, 24, seaman from Port Huron, Mich.; Linda M. Lodico, 28, an English instructor, and Toby L. Woodard, 20.

4-H roundup

By JEANNIE ANDERSON

4-H Program Assistant

Volunteer 4-H advisors were many different kinds of leadership hats in the 4-H program. Many of them will be spending several extra hours at the fair this year seeing that their club members are being judged, setting up booth displays, helping with demonstrations, and many other responsibilities.

It takes many different leadership hats in 4-H and it takes many different adults with various talents and interests to wear them. These adults form the leadership team for the local 4-H club.

One of the functions of 4-H projects is to provide a "Learning by Doing" experience. However, more important than the facts and skills learned is the development of girls and boys. Projects are a tool, or a means, not an end, and that actually it's the person, not the project, that's really important in 4-H club work.

The fair, answers questions about what 4-H is and what it means to youth. Much of the story is told through booths, demonstrations, style shows and exhibits.

A big "salute" goes to the 4-H advisors of Fayette County and a big "thank you" for your time, talents, and effort on behalf of the 4-H boys and girls. As you look back over the many hours with the 4-H members, you receive your rewards from knowing you have helped in some way the boys and girls to grow and become better citizens.

A countywide event such as the fair belongs to everyone. Be sure to be a part of your local fair this year by spending some time viewing the exhibits and seeing 4-Her's in action.

Balloonist recuperates on vessel

NEW YORK (AP) — Karl Thomas steamed safely toward Holland aboard a Russian ship today after a severe thunderstorm aborted his attempt to become the first person to cross the Atlantic Ocean in a balloon.

After not being heard from for almost four days, Thomas radioed Thursday from the 423-foot Soviet freighter Dekabrist to say the ship had plucked him from a raft in the Atlantic.

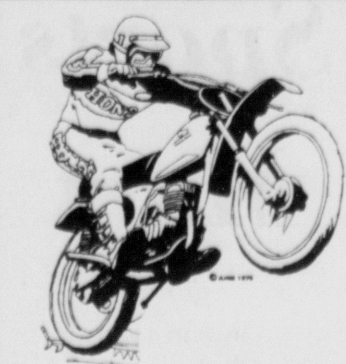

Thomas reported that he had been forced to ditch his 90-foot, red, white and blue, starstudded balloon about 6 a.m. Sunday, some 33 hours after he had lifted off from Lakehurst, N.J., Naval Air Station on Friday.

He said he cracked three ribs and suffered some bleeding in his right lung when he jumped 200 feet from the open 14-foot gondola of his balloon and hit the water.

"I'm feeling a little bit on the sore side," the 27-year-old adventurer said in a ship-to-shore telephone conversation with radio station CJCH in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

He told the station that after ditching the balloon "I spent the next four days in the raft until I ran across (the Dekabrist)." Thomas said he had no food or water during the period in the raft and time "was kind of dragging on."

He said that one of the first questions he asked himself as his raft rose and fell on the Atlantic was, "Gee, I wonder what I'm doing here."

1776: The words heard 'round the world.

We've already announced our independence. On July 2nd, our Continental Congress adopted a resolution "that these United Colonies are, and of right ought to be, free and independent States." That announcement, says John Adams, will make July 2nd the most memorable day in our history. But it's not until two days later that we officially explain the reasons for our independence, in the July 4th Declaration we'll always celebrate.

Our Declaration of Independence makes America unique. Never before has a nation actually written down reasons why it became a separate state. Our words stir the world. And even inspire other peoples to defend their rights against tyrannical leaders. Looks like America has made quite an impression.

Foster optimistic about walk-on chances at Toledo

Many high school athletes receive scholarships and financial aid from colleges to further their athletic and academic careers.

What this amounts to is getting a free or reduced-priced education in return for athletic services. When one of these scholarship athletes enjoys the sport it can be considered an ideal way to secure a college education.

Many high school athletes are not recruited and do not receive financial assistance from colleges for one reason or another. They must show up for fall practice as freshmen and earn a spot on a team. Usually scholarships or some type of financial assistance will follow if the player proves his worth. These athletes are called "walk-ons."

Dewey Foster, the captain of the 1975 Blue Lion football team, will be wearing the "walk-on" tag this fall when he shows up for the first Toledo University grid practice.

Foster, however, is not a character out of a boy's sports book. He won't walk by the Toledo football field on his way to class, snare an errant pass, impress the coach, and lead the team to an undefeated season.

The Toledo coaches know Foster is coming and they're "real happy."

The all-league, all-district and all-Ohio Blue Lion captain got in touch with Toledo University through a family friend, Jack Jackson. Jackson, the former grid coach at Dayton Dunbar High School, contacted Bill McConnell, the Toledo defensive backfield coach.

McConnell was willing to talk to Foster, but Toledo had no more scholarships to give. The school had only 22 for the 1976 season.

"I was very honest with Dewey," McConnell said. "I told him we felt he could play at any small school, but we weren't sure about here. He would have to show us."

Quite a few walk-ons have made it in the past at Toledo which sported a 5-6 record last season under head coach Jack Murphy. McConnell singled out two freshman walk-ons from last year who ended up with varsity letters.

The Toledo coaching staff is expecting about 30 walk-ons this fall. That is about the average number each year.

It will be very difficult for any freshman to find a spot on this year's Toledo varsity. Only four starters were lost. Even though one of those four was All-American quarterback Gene Swick, Coach Murphy is looking for an improved record with 38 letterman returning. Many of the freshmen will have to be satisfied with a junior varsity jersey in coming years.

McConnell said he is very impressed with Foster, and is optimistic of his football chances because "he is a hard worker." Foster went out for track his senior year to improve his speed, an area which concerns McConnell the most.

"He hits well enough. We could tell that from watching one game film," McConnell said. At 6-1, 170 Foster is not regarded as small by Toledo, but speed is really important.

Toledo expects to use Foster at defensive back—he will also get a shot at wide receiver—and most of the secondary run 40 yards in at least 4.5 seconds.

Although NCAA rules prohibit colleges from timing recruits, McConnell lists Foster's speed as average—about a five flatter.

McConnell warns that his estimate doesn't mean that five flat is as fast as Foster can run. "A lot of kids haven't been taught how to run or make the most out of their speed," the Toledo coach said.

He cited Swick as a perfect example. "He was a :5.3 freshman and was timed at :4.8 his senior year."

If Foster can improve his speed that much, McConnell has little doubt about the former Blue Lion's chances of earning a letter.

Regardless of what the Toledo coaching staff thinks perhaps Foster's thoughts on the matter of making a name in big-time college football are the most important.

He is optimistic about his chances and even contends that he will have an advantage on many freshmen. "They recruit few defensive backs," he said. Toledo like many schools turn unused running backs into defenders.

Past experience will be on Foster's side when practice starts next month.

Oakland tops frontrunners

A's eye 6th straight flag

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN

AP Sports Writer

Slugging third baseman Sal Bando of the Oakland A's hammered two solo shots Thursday night as Oakland downed front-running Kansas City 5-2 in the opener of Oakland's critical four-game series. The defending American League West Division champions, shooting for a sixth consecutive title, are in third place, 8½ games behind the Royals.

In other American League action, the Cleveland Indians edged the New York Yankees 3-2, the Detroit Tigers blanked the Baltimore Orioles 2-0, the Milwaukee Brewers nipped the Boston Red Sox 6-5 in 10 innings and the California Angels nosed out the Chicago White Sox 2-1. Texas and Minnesota were not scheduled.

In the only National League games, the San Diego Padres beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 5-3 and the New York Mets clobbered the St. Louis Cardinals 13-0. Philadelphia and Montreal were rained out while the other clubs had the day off.

Bando hit his first home run in the second inning off Kansas City's Doug Bird and connected again in the ninth off reliever Marty Pattin, snapping a tie. Rookie Jeff Newman drove in two insurance runs with his first major league hit.

Indians 3, Yankees 2

Rick Manning tripled home the eventual winning run in the seventh inning as the Indians handed the Yankees their third straight loss. Ex-Yankee Pat Dobson, with relief help from Dave LaRoche and Jim Kern, became the AL's first 10-game winner as the Indians moved within six games of the Yankees in the East Division.

Tigers 2, Orioles 0

Dave Roberts stopped Baltimore on four singles while Alex Johnson homered for Detroit. The third-place

Tigers have won and nine of 11 and trail the Yankees by eight games. They scored their first run off Rudy May in the fourth inning on Rusty Staub's single, an error by shortstop Mark Belanger, an infield out and a wild pitch.

Brewers 6, Red Sox 5

Bernie Carbo came back to haunt his former teammates, singling home Jack Heidemann with the winning run as the Brewers ended a six-game losing streak. With two out in the 10th, Heidemann and Scott singled off Reggie Cleveland. Carbo greeted Tom House with a bouncer behind second base which shortstop Rick Burleson fielded but his throw was too late to get Carbo as Heidemann raced home.

Angels 2, White Sox 1

Bill Melton turned on his former teammates by scoring one run and driving in another to lead the Angels to a sweep of their three-game series with the White Sox, who have dropped nine games in a row at home. Melton doubled in the second inning and scored on a double by Ron Jackson and then singled home the winning run in the third.

Padres 5, Dodgers 3

Johnny Grubb and Tito Fuentes

combined for six hits and four runs batted in and Fred Kendall hit his first homer since Sept. 12, 1974, while Brent Strom scattered nine Los Angeles hits. Grubb drove in two runs with two singles and a double and Fuentes brought home two more with a pair of singles and a double.

Mets 13, Cardinals 0

John Milner hit his second grand slam home run in five days and drove in another run with a double while Jon Matlack hurled a five-hitter for his 10th victory and fourth shutout. It was the Mets' seventh straight victory.

Reds in familiar pitching position

Shakey staff heads into July

CINCINNATI (AP) — The Cincinnati Reds, just three victories off their torrid 1975 pace, head into July facing a familiar situation: holding a healthy lead but wondering if their shaky pitching staff can weather the long, hot summer.

It was announced Thursday that lefthander Don Gullett, who has seen limited action this season, will remain out of the starting rotation for at least two more weeks due to arm problems.

His loss, coupled with the deep spike wound suffered by 1975 Most Valuable Player Joe Morgan, leaves the Reds vulnerable.

It was a similar situation a year ago, when the Reds lost Gullett for two months with a broken thumb lineup. But they entered July with a seven-game lead over Los Angeles and stretched it to a mind boggling 20, by winning a club record 108 games.

The Reds open a four-game holiday home stand against the Houston Astros tonight with a twinght doubleheader.

Morgan, who needed eight stitches in his right shin after a collision Wednesday night with San Diego's Dave Winfield, is not expected back in the lineup over the weekend.

The Reds planned to send rookie Pat Zachry (7-3) and Fred Norman (6-1) against J.R. Richard (7-9) and Joaquin Andujar (3-4). Andujar, an ex-Reds farmhand, handed Cincinnati a rare shutout last weekend.

George Foster takes a 16-game hitting streak into the series. It is the longest hitting streak by a Red in the past two years. Foster also had a 16-game streak last year.

But the hottest bat on the club belongs to centerfielder Cesar Geronimo, who has 18 hits in his last 33 at-bats. The batting binge has propelled his average above .310 and into contention for an All Star berth still to be decided by Manager Sparky Anderson.

Gullett, 6-2, worked out for Anderson Wednesday and reportedly had only 75 per cent of his fastball. Anderson said Gullett had "enough to get by but not enough to have good consistency."

Girtons tops Craigs in Girtons replaced Craigs atop the Babe Ruth League standings Thursday with a 7-4 win. Girtons now owns a 7-1 record and Craigs holds a 7-2 mark.

Girton's jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning behind Shawn Riley's two-run single and never lost the lead. Craigs did pull within a run in the third when Tom Dean walked with the bases loaded.

Girton's padded the lead, however, with a three run outburst in the fourth capped by Bill Hanner's two-run double.

Craigs again pulled within a run in the sixth inning. Dean Faris drove in two of the three runs with double chasing starter Shawn Riley from the mound. Ron West came in to get the final out.

Shane Riley made it 6-4 with his third home run of the year in the bottom of

Fiery Romanian hot favorite to win

Nastase, Borg in Wimbledon final

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Is Ilie Nastase, the strokeplaying Romanian artist, going to lose his temper and throw his temperament around the center court Saturday when he plays Sweden's Bjorn Borg for the top crown in tennis?

If he does, he's liable to lose. If he doesn't, he's the hot favorite to win.

And the authority for that comes from Raul Ramirez, the tall, elegant Mexican whom Nastase beat in the semifinals of the men's singles 6-4, 9-7, 6-3 Thursday, a match generally regarded as the best seen at this year's flat Wimbledon tournament.

Today Chris Evert of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., met Evonne Goolagong in the women's singles final. Each was bidding for a second Wimbledon singles title. Miss Evert was trying to finally beat her Australian rival on the grass.

Nastase, nicknamed "Nasty" for his on-court tantrums, has never won the Wimbledon crown, although he figured in one of the best finals seen here for a decade. Stan Smith beat him in five sets in 1972. His temperament frequently lets him down at crucial moments.

But this year, Nastase's behavior had been impeccable — until Thursday's semifinal. Then, in an outburst of irritation at dropping a service game, he complained that photographers were upsetting his concentration, and even took a swing at one of them with a towel.

Ramirez readily admitted afterwards he hoped Nastase would really lose his temper. "I'd have had a better chance then," he said. "Twice he's walked off the court against me, and if his temper goes — so does his game sometimes."

But Nastase has been striving for a low profile so far in this prestigious tournament.

Ramirez said after his match with Nastase that Sweden's Bjorn Borg would have less chance against the extrovert Nastase than Roscoe Tanner, the power-serving American from Lookout Mountain, Tenn, whom Borg beat in the other semifinal 6-4, 9-8, 6-4. "Nastase wouldn't have the same chance to dictate the pace against Tanner's big serve as he would against Borg."

But Borg also showed he's no slouch when it comes to serving, banging 10 aces to Tanner's nine.

Borg, just 20, will be the youngest finalist here since Ken Rosewall, as a kid of 19, was beaten by Jaroslav Drobny back in 1954.

Bulletin

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Chris Evert defeated Evonne Goolagong 6-3, 4-6, 8-6 today and won her second women's singles title at the Wimbledon Tennis Championships.

It was the first time Miss Evert has ever beaten her Australian rival on grass.

U.S. pullout from Davis Cup studied

LONDON (AP) — The U.S. pullout from Davis Cup tennis competition has drawn a divided reaction from Americans attending the Wimbledon matches.

Arthur Ashe says it's wrong. Roscoe Tanner agrees with it. Donald Bell is torn apart by it.

Protesting "political meddling," the United States announced Thursday that it pulled out of the Davis Cup competition and resigned from the ruling organization. France and Britain withdrew from the 1977 tournament but stayed on as members of the Davis Cup committee, at least for the present.

The breaking point came over the issue of some countries refusing to play South Africa. Mexico declined to play

South Africa in 1975 and 1976. South Africa won the 1974 Davis Cup when India refused to play in the finals.

"It's a strange way for the United States to punish itself," said Ashe. "It's crazy. Tennis politics are ridiculous and silly. I think pulling out is the wrong thing to do. That's avoiding the problem. It's a strange situation that the United States, Britain and France are banding together on principle concerning South Africa."

On the other side of the court, Tanner said: "I think we should withdraw. If someone enters, they agree to play all. They made a rule last year about Mexico's withdrawal but nothing happened. If they aren't going back to the rules then we should get out."

Canada bans Taiwan Olympians

By The Associated Press
U.S. Olympic officials are "shocked" over Canada's ban of the Taiwan team in the Montreal Games.

"Politics should be kept out of the Olympic Games," said Don Miller, executive director of the U.S. Olympic Committee. "Taiwan is a member in good standing with the International Olympic Committee and has done nothing to merit this action by the Canadian government."

Miller's reaction came Thursday after learning of the Canadian decision to shut out the Taiwan team from the 1976 Olympics. The action, taken under prodding from Peking, was seen as a political move, since Canada apparently does not want to sacrifice its official ties with Communist China.

Glen Shortliffe, an external affairs spokesman for the Canadian government, said Taiwan's athletes would not be allowed into the country unless Canada receives guarantees that they will not claim to be representatives of China.

During the Games they may not use the flag, designation, symbol or name of the "so-called Republic of China," he said.

Lary Sinclair wins

FLORENCE, Ky. (AP) — Odds-on favorite Lary Sinclair rushed out of second place midway through the stretch Thursday night to win the featured pace by two lengths at Latonia.

The winner, off at 2-1, went the mile in 2:08 to return $6.60, $3.00 and $2.60.

CONCRETE CHOP — Neil Shirkey demonstrates the finer points of breaking cement blocks with his bare hands Wednesday night at the Ohio National Guard Armory in Washington C.H. Shirkey, who will begin teaching classes at the Armory, held the exhibition with the help of his students.

Jeff driver hurt in one-car crash

A Jeffersonville man was seriously injured Thursday after his car struck a utility pole, Fayette County sheriff's deputies reported. Washington C.H. police officers investigated three accidents involving slight damage to the vehicles.

Jerry G. Smith, 36, of Jeffersonville, was traveling south on the Jeffersonville-West Lancaster Road, when he apparently lost control of his car, went off the left side of the road and struck a utility pole located in Jeffersonville Township.

Smith was taken to Fayette County Memorial Hospital where he was treated for a fractured skull and lacerations. He was transferred to University Hospital, Columbus, where he is listed in "fair" condition. The car was severely damaged in the 8:45 p.m. Thursday accident.

Clear skies prevailed over Ohio during the night along with rather chilly temperatures. Readings were mostly uniform, usually holding within the 50 degree range throughout the state.

The clear trend should continue through the day, although some cloudiness will be developing over the northeast third of the state, where some showers and thundershowers may occur during the afternoon.

Temperatures will be pleasant today with afternoon readings mostly in the 70s. Cool conditions can be expected again tonight.

622 Campbell St., was illegally parked along the 400 block of East Street. In the process of traveling east on East Street, a car driven by Esther P. McDaniel, 61, of 1007 S. Hinde St., reportedly became crowded by a third vehicle, causing it to strike a mirror on the parked car.

There was slight damage to both cars, and Dixon was cited with a parking violation.

9:49 a.m. — Pulling from a parking space on E. Court Street, a car driven by Kristine C. Amsbary, 32, of 403 N. North St., reportedly drove into the path of another car which was eastbound on E. Court Street.

The second car was driven by Mildred Vanpelt, 70, of Sabina, and the accident occurred just east of Fayette Street. Both cars were slightly damaged. Mrs. Amsbary was charged with starting without safety.

8:48 a.m. — Traveling east on E. Court Street, a car driven by Charles W. Mustine, 56, of 609 Charlotte Court, was stopped for a red light at the Hinde Street intersection. A car driven by Degra Smallwood, 24, of 553 Leesburg Ave., was also eastbound on Court Street, but was reportedly unable to stop in time and struck the Mustine car in the rear.

Slight damage was incurred by both cars.

John F. Joseph, 326 E. Market St., has filed suit against Betty J. Joseph on grounds of gross neglect of duty. Married on January 5, 1961, in Washington C.H., the couple has two children. The plaintiff asks that the defendant be restrained from his place of employment and from telephoning him, during the divorce action and afterwards. He asks that the court determine property rights and such relief to which he is entitled.

JUVENILE TRAFFIC

Harold L. Fields, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fields, 332 N. Hinde St., was cited for operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license. The case was dismissed by Probate Juvenile Judge Rollo M. Marchant.

Sheri Lyons, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lyons, 917 Washington Ave., was found guilty of speeding and had her operator's license suspended for 30 days. She was ordered to attend the next defensive driving course.

Janet K. Wilson, 17, daughter of Mrs. Carolyn Wilson, 217 1/2 East St., was cited for operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license. The case is to be continued.

Raymond C. Reed, 17, grandson of Mr. Joseph J. Lewr, Greenfield, was cited for driving left of center. Discipline by his grandfather was approved by the court.

Brian K. Stritenberger, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stritenberger, 4259 Ohio 41, was charged with failure to yield the right of way. Discipline by his parents was approved by the court.

Beth A. Kimmet, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kimmet, 526 Rawlings St., was cited for failure to yield the right of way and was ordered to attend the next defensive driving course. Discipline by the parents was approved by the court.

Smith, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, 4461 U.S. 62 had his operator's license suspended for six months and was ordered to attend the next defensive driving course after being declared an unruly child by the court. The youth was cited for engaging in conduct, or creating a condition, while intoxicated, which presented a risk of harm to himself or to another, by reason of sleeping a truck on the roadway.

Alan J. Holbrook, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holbrook, 4907 Ohio 41-N, was ordered to attend the next defensive driving course and had his license suspended for 30 days after being found guilty of speeding.

VW plant accord seen

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania could sign a final agreement within a week to bring a Volkswagen plant to Westmoreland County, Gov. Milton Shapp said.

"The VW board has approved in principle the arrangement being worked on," Shapp told a news conference Thursday.

He said VW wants to sign a preliminary agreement by July 5 to present to a meeting that day of its stockholders. The West German auto manufacturer expects to sign a final agreement by July 9.

Only one piece of Shapp's financial package is still not in place. A loan, originally estimated at $25 million, is needed from one of the state's two large retirement funds—the teachers and the state employees funds.

reasonable alimony and support for the children; her costs and attorney's fees and other such relief as shall be necessary.

John F. Joseph, 326 E. Market St., has filed suit against Betty J. Joseph on grounds of gross neglect of duty. Married on January 5, 1961, in Washington C.H., the couple has two children. The plaintiff asks that the defendant be restrained from his place of employment and from telephoning him, during the divorce action and afterwards. He asks that the court determine property rights and such relief to which he is entitled.

JUVENILE TRAFFIC

Harold L. Fields, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Fields, 332 N. Hinde St., was cited for operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license. The case was dismissed by Probate Judge Rollo M. Marchant.

Sheri Lyons, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lyons, 917 Washington Ave., was found guilty of speeding and had her operator's license suspended for 30 days. She was ordered to attend the next defensive driving course.

Janet K. Wilson, 17, daughter of Mrs. Carolyn Wilson, 217½ East St., was cited for operating a motor vehicle without an operator's license. The case is to be continued.

Raymond C. Reed, 17, grandson of Mr. Joseph J. Lewr, Greenfield, was cited for driving left of center. Discipline by his grandfather was approved by the court.

Brian K. Stritenberger, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Stritenberger, 4259 Ohio 41, was charged with failure to yield the right of way. Discipline by his parents was approved by the court.

Beth A. Kimmel, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kimmel, 526 Rawlings St., was cited for failure to yield the right of way and was ordered to attend the next defensive driving course. Discipline by the parents was approved by the court.

Smith, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, 4461 U.S. 62 had his operator's license suspended for six months and was ordered to attend the next defensive driving course after being declared an unruly child by the court. The youth was cited for engaging in conduct, or creating a condition, while intoxicated, which presented a risk of harm to himself or to another, by reason of sleeping a truck on the roadway.

Alan J. Holbrook, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holbrook, 4907 Ohio 41-N, was ordered to attend the next defensive driving course and had his license suspended for 30 days after being found guilty of speeding.

VW plant accord seen

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania could sign a final agreement within a week to bring a Volkswagen plant to Westmoreland County, Gov. Milton Shapp said.

"The VW board has approved in principle the arrangement being worked on," Shapp told a news conference Thursday.

He said VW wants to sign a preliminary agreement by July 5 to present to a meeting that day of its stockholders. The West German auto manufacturer expects to sign a final agreement by July 9.

Only one piece of Shapp's financial package is still not in place. A loan, originally estimated at $25 million, is needed from one of the state's two large retirement funds—the teachers and the state employees funds.
